FRANKLIN D. STEWART.

LOCAL NEWS.

Uncertainty about the date of the election caused a good deal of excitement in the city today. The mayor has announced that he will not resign until the votes are counted, which has led to some speculation about the outcome.

The city council has called a special meeting to discuss the situation. It is expected that a decision will be made regarding the mayor's resignation.

The county clerk has received several hundred affidavits from citizens who are registered to vote. It is believed that these affidavits will be sufficient to ensure a fair election.

The police department has been placed on high alert, and additional officers have been deployed to maintain order.

The election results are expected to be announced on Tuesday morning.

We are gratified to learn that the investigation into the charges of dishonesty made against Roswell J. Smith, by the Democratic majority in the Pennsylvania legislature, which is now being conducted by a special committee, will be completed shortly. The committee has been working diligently, and we believe that justice will soon be done. Smith has been accused of embezzling public funds, but we are confident that the evidence will not support these charges.

The election in Pennsylvania is rapidly approaching, and the political parties are engaged in a vigorous campaign. The Democratic party is led by Governor Smith, who is a popular and able leader. The Republican party is headed by Governor Buchanan, who is well known for his integrity and public service. We believe that the Republican ticket will receive the support of the majority of the voters in the state.

In Pennsylvania, as in other states, the election will be marked by a high degree of party spirit and political activity. The candidates are making every effort to gain the support of the electorate, and their platforms are being carefully studied by the voters.

The Pennsylvania legislature is also in session, and a number of important bills are expected to be passed. We shall keep our readers informed of the progress of the sessions and the outcome of the legislative measures.

In conclusion, we wish to express our hope that the coming election will be conducted in a spirit of fair play and good will, and that the voters will be guided by their best judgment in casting their ballots.

We are also reminded that the Pennsylvania sanitary commission is holding a meeting at Pittsburgh, where medical and health matters are being discussed. We shall report on the proceedings of the commission in our next issue.
