CEREMENT OF WAR NEWS.

On Tuesday, Sept. 24, late last month, Gen. Frémont was defeated by General Wool, at the battle of Bull Run, in Virginia. The news has long been expected, and the battle was fought with great spirit. The main feature of the conflict was the fall of the fort at Alexandria, and the capture of the Federal army, which was composed of 30,000 men, by the enemy. The battle lasted for several hours, and the American troops were driven back to the town of Alexandria, where they were driven into the city, and the fort was taken by the enemy.
