We have removed our office to the old Bell House buildings, on New Street, between the old and new courthouses, where we will be pleased to see our old friends.

WAR NEWS. The news from our armies this week, like the past, is very uninteresting, and with the exception of the sailing of the expedition, it seems to contain nothing of interest.

By last night's mail we learn that the gallant and ever watchful Major Mosby has been at work among the rear of the enemy's pickets.

There is work for all. In looking back to the period of the Revolution and understanding the difficulties which surrounded the patriotic people of that age, we can but feel an admiration for the associations.

Tasker Brantley. A gentleman of high respectability communicates the facts of another brutal outrage committed by our enemies some time ago.
