INTERESTING LETTER FROM THE SOUTH.

JULIUS M. BUTLER.

To the Editor of the Valley Spirit.

Chambersburg, Pa., March 15, 1859.

My Dear Sir:—In the recent weekly number of your distinguished periodical journal, I observe with much interest the communication from Mr. H. J. J. B., of Boston, in which he expresses his high esteem for your valuable paper, and his appreciation of the contributions which its editor, Mr. J. H. B., has made to the cause of liberty and humanity. I have long been a subscriber to your paper, and I am proud to say that I have never failed to find in it a constant source of instruction and amusement. I am particularly interested in the political and social questions which are discussed in your pages, and I believe that your editor's views on these subjects are just and true. I have great respect for Mr. J. H. B., and I am confident that he will continue to devote his energies to the promotion of the cause which he has so nobly championed.

Yours truly,

DEMOCRATIC TOUGHERNESS.

To the Editor of the Valley Spirit.

Chambersburg, Pa., March 15, 1859.

My Dear Sir:—I have just received a copy of your recent number, and I am delighted to see that it contains an article on the subject of Democratic toughness. This is a topic that has long interested me, and I am glad to see that you have taken it up. The article is well written, and it has given me much food for thought. I have always been a believer in the principles of the Democratic party, and I am convinced that they are the best for the country. I believe that the Democratic party is the party of the common man, and I am proud to say that I am a member of it.

Yours truly,

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE HUNTER'S REWARD.

In the Spring of 1776, two months before the Declaration of Independence, a young man was overthrown by a wild beast in the forest. The beast dragged him to the ground and left him to die. The young man lay there for hours, until a hunter passed by and saw him. The hunter took pity on him and brought him to safety. The young man was taken to a hospital, where he was treated for his injuries.

After his recovery, the young man returned to the forest and looked for the beast that had attacked him. He found it and killed it. The beast was a large bear, and the young man was able to bring it to the town. The town was grateful, and the young man was rewarded for his bravery.

THE SWORD.

The sword is an instrument of war, and has been used throughout history. It is a weapon of great power, and has been used to kill many people. The sword is also a symbol of power, and has been used to convey this power to those who wield it.

THE ROBE OF AG.

The robe of Ag is a robe that was worn by the ancient god Ag. The robe was made of wool, and was decorated with intricate patterns. The robe was worn by Ag during his ceremonies, and was a symbol of his power.

THE ROSE OF STEEL.

The rose of steel is a rose that was made of steel. The rose was made by a blacksmith, and was a symbol of his skill.

THE ROSE OF THE GRAVE.

The rose of the grave is a rose that was put on the grave of a loved one. The rose was a symbol of the love that the family had for the deceased.

THE ROSE OF THE VALLEY.

The rose of the valley is a rose that was found in the valley. The rose was a symbol of the beauty of the valley.

THE ROSE OF THE WIND.

The rose of the wind is a rose that was made to be blown by the wind. The rose was a symbol of the freedom of the wind.

THE ROSE OF THE WINTER.

The rose of the winter is a rose that was made to be seen in the winter. The rose was a symbol of the beauty of the winter.
