WASHINGTON, Feb. 24, 1859.

RECENT ABOUT THE KANSAS Gold Hype.

The Kansas gold fever, which has been the talk of the town in the past months, seems to have reached its height. The speculation is now so intense that it is difficult to find anyone who does not believe in the gold deposits. The prices have risen to such an extent that it is now estimated that the value of the gold in the state is upwards of $100,000,000.

The gold rush has been caused by the discovery of a rich deposit near the town of Lawrence. The news spread rapidly and thousands flocked to the region. The state has been carpeted with gold dust and the streets are now lined with shacks and tents. The country is now booming and the population is growing rapidly.

The effect on the local economy has been tremendous. The prices of all commodities have risen sharply. The farmers are now able to sell their crops at high prices. The money market is now active and the banks are doing a flourishing business.

The speculation has also had an effect on the national economy. The gold rush has caused a rise in the price of silver and has led to a increase in the price of other metals. The speculation has also had an effect on the money market. The demand for gold has caused the prices of gold to rise and has led to a decrease in the prices of other metals.

The Kansas gold rush is now in full swing and it is expected to continue for some time. The state has been able to attract a large number of speculators and the prices of gold have continued to rise. The state is now expecting a large influx of gold and the prices of gold are expected to continue to rise.

The Trumansburg Herald,

A RIVER OF DISCONTENT.

We are pleased to see that the Government is making a start, in a small way, in the direction of remedying the abuses of the past. We are aware that the objections of the American public to the present system of government are not confined to the absence of a consolidated supremacy. There are many other grievances, both legal and extra-legal, which the people are desirous of having redressed. Some of these, no doubt, will be met with difficulty; but we are confident that a spirit of conciliation and moderation will eventually prevail, and that the country will be able to work out a system of government which will be satisfactory to all.

The Washington Post.

The administration of President Washington is now in its second year. The country is in a state of peace and contentment, and the government is conducted with great efficiency and decorum. The President has discharged his duties with unwearied energy, and has evinced a firmness and decision which have been calculated to inspire confidence in his administration. We are confident that he will continue to discharge his duties with the same fidelity and success.

The recent Spanish-American War has not only added to the strength of the United States, but it has also served to illustrate the importance of having a strong navy. The Pacific fleet, which was recently assembled in the Pacific Ocean, has shown that the United States is a power to be reckoned with in the west. It is hoped that the government will continue to increase the strength of the navy, and that it will be equipped with Dreadnoughts, which will be capable of withstanding any opposition that may be encountered.

The Philadelphia Inquirer.

The recent mobilization of the army has caused much excitement. The people are anxious to know what the government intends to do, and what is the state of the mobilization. We are confident that the government will take all necessary steps to prevent any unauthorized mobilization, and that it will be able to maintain order in the country.

The Boston Globe.

The recent elections have shown that the people of the United States are satisfied with the administration of President Washington, and that they desirous of seeing it continued. The President has been re-elected by a large majority, and we are confident that he will be able to carry out the work of the past two years, and to make the country prosperous.

Aードルースの旗手が旗を挙げ、アメリカ軍の旗を掲げた。旗は風に揺れており、そのそばに立っている旗手は、その風が旗を揺らしていることを知っているように思えた。旗手は、旗をつかみ、風を避けて旗を前に突進する。旗は風の中を揺れ、風が旗を強く吹くと、旗手は旗を動かす。旗は風を避け、旗手は旗を突進する。旗は風に揺れており、そのそばに立っている旗手は、その風が旗を揺らしているように思えた。旗手は、旗をつかみ、風を避けて旗を前に突進する。旗は風の中を揺れ、風が旗を強く吹くと、旗手は旗を動かす。旗は風を避け、旗手は旗を突進する。旗は風に揺れており、そのそばに立っている旗手は、その風が旗を揺らしているように思えた。旗手は、旗をつかみ、風を避けて旗を前に突進する。旗は風の中を揺れ、風が旗を強く吹くと、旗手は旗を動かす。旗は風を避け、旗手は旗を突進する。旗は風に揺れており、そのそばに立っている旗手は、その風が旗を揺らしているように思えた。旗手は、旗をつかみ、風を避けて旗を前に突進する。旗は風の中を揺れ、風が旗を強く吹くと、旗手は旗を動かす。旗は風を避け、旗手は旗を突進する。
