TROUBLED TIMES IN CANADA.

This week we have had much news from Canada, and many letters from persons who have been influenced by the events which have taken place there. The most distressing news is that of the death of Mr. C. A. Mitchell, one of the leading citizens of Toronto, and a friend of ours. Mr. Mitchell was a man of great ability and energy, and was a valuable addition to the ranks of the Union party. He was a strong advocate of free trade, and was one of the most influential leaders in the movement for the annexation of Upper Canada to the United States. His death is a great loss to the country, and his friends will feel the loss keenly.

The situation in the West is critical. The Indians are on the warpath, and the military are badly needed. The government is doing all it can to meet the emergency, but the situation is serious. The Indians have been for some time demanding the cession of territory, and the government has been unable to make any headway. The situation is likely to become worse, and the government must be prepared to meet the emergency.

IN THE INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE.

The following is an extract from a circular issued by the Liberal party, which is in circulation throughout the country. The circular states that the party is determined to do all in its power to promote the interests of the people. It points out that the government is doing little to relieve the distress of the working classes, and that the people are suffering from taxation which is too heavy. The party is determined to do all in its power to make the government understand the needs of the people, and to get the people to vote for candidates who will stand for their interests.

GOVERNMENT STANDARDS.

The state committee of the Union party has issued a circular, which is in circulation throughout the country. The circular states that the party is determined to do all in its power to ensure that the government carries out the standards which have been set for it. The circular points out that the government has been doing little to carry out the standards, and that the people are suffering from the results of the government's failure to carry them out. The party is determined to do all in its power to make the government understand the need for carrying out the standards, and to get the people to vote for candidates who will stand for the carrying out of the standards.

RICHARD P. WONDERLY.

Staff of the Democratic Party.

The Republican Party, as it is now known, was the party of the new nation. It was formed in 1854, and its theoretical basis was the belief in the principle of states' rights. The party was opposed to the extension of slavery into the territories of the United States, and it favored a gradual and limited settlement of the slavery question.

The party was divided into two branches: the Northern and the Southern. The Northern branch supported the Union and the abolition of slavery, while the Southern branch supported the Confederacy and the maintenance of slavery.

The party's leaders included Abraham Lincoln, who served as president of the United States from 1861 to 1865, and Andrew Johnson, who served as president from 1865 to 1869.

The party's platform called for the abolition of slavery, the protection of states' rights, and the continuation of the Union. The party's platform also called for the establishment of a national banking system and the expansion of the railroads.

The party's policies were based on the belief in the principle of states' rights, which was the foundation of the party's ideology. The party believed that the states should have the power to govern themselves, and that the federal government should have the power to govern the nation as a whole.
