VALLEY SPIRIT.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA.

VOLUME 13.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 3, 1859.

NUMBER 6.

Dedicatory Address.

FIFTH CEREMONY OF PROGRESSIVE.

As the result of a long and patient investigation of the subjects of discipline and organization, and as the result of a long and patient investigation of the subjects of discipline and organization, there is a general consensus of opinion among the members of the Seventh Report of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, that the following Address be printed in the Valley Spirit:

JOHN HARRIS.

ADDRESSES.

DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE.

FIFTH CEREMONY OF PROGRESSIVE.

As the result of a long and patient investigation of the subjects of discipline and organization, and as the result of a long and patient investigation of the subjects of discipline and organization, there is a general consensus of opinion among the members of the Seventh Report of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, that the following Address be printed in the Valley Spirit:

JOHN HARRIS.

WHAT IS IT TO BE A FRIEND?

The Boston Packet asks what is it to be a Friend, and answers: "It is to be a man." But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been accused of being" "soft" and "unmanly." The Packet says: "What is it to be a man? It is to be a public man. It is to be a man who can command attention, and who can command respect. But the Friends have always been acc
A PRETTY TALE.

A true, bright February day, after a long period of cold, wind and snow, dawned with radiant brightness, and with a promise of fair weather. The sun shone brightly, and the gentle breeze was blowing briskly, much to the delight of the skaters and sledders on the lake. The air was crisp and invigorating, and the children were out in force, enjoying the pleasant weather.

The story of Robert and Emily began on this bright February day. Robert, a young man of twenty, had just returned from a trip to the city, where he had been courting Emily, a beautiful girl of the same age. Robert was overjoyed at the prospect of seeing Emily again, and had planned a special surprise for her.

When Robert arrived at Emily's house, he was greeted with a warm welcome. Emily's father, a respected member of the community, was pleased to see his daughter's future suitor. Robert introduced himself and explained his purpose. Emily was thrilled to see him again, and the two talked for several hours, catching up on each other's lives.

As the day wore on, Robert decided it was time for his surprise. He led Emily outside, where he had arranged a beautiful picnic on the shore of the lake. Emily was amazed at the sight, and they spent the rest of the day enjoying the beauty of nature and each other's company.

This was the beginning of their love story, which would continue to unfold over the coming months. The villagers were delighted to hear of their engagement, and the couple was soon planning their wedding. Robert and Emily's love was a testament to the power of true love, and they lived happily ever after.
Mr. Buchanan and the CHARTERED INSTITUTIONS

The Administration of James Buchanan.

The Administration of James Buchanan.

From the Chatham, the seat of the Democratic Party, we have the following dispatches:

President Buchanan and the Successors.

A recent dispatch from the New York Times brings the news of the President's death, which occurred on the 5th of May, at 9 o'clock in the evening.

The President died after a short illness of pneumonia.

The last words of the President were:

"I am ready to go to the grave."
LOCAL NEWS.

McIlvaine's Residence.--Last Wednesday, Dr. McIlvaine, of the Mansion House, died at his residence. He was a long time a resident of the city, and was a member of the old school of doctors. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon.

Tomb Island.--The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, in Washington, D.C., has been completed. It is a simple structure, but very tasteful in design. The soldiers who have died in the service of their country are buried in this tomb. The ceremony of dedication will take place on Friday afternoon.

COUNTY CONVENTION.--The county convention of the Democratic party was held last week in the city. It was attended by a large number of delegates, who discussed various important questions. The meeting adjourned without any action being taken.

Fruit.--The fruit crop is in good condition. The peaches are fine, and the apples are excellent. The strawberries are plentiful, and the cherries are abundant.

Tomato Wine.--Mr. J. B. Smith, of this city, has prepared a new wine from the tomato. It is delicious, and has a pleasant flavor. The wine is now on sale at the shop of Mr. Smith.

Dr. Hall.--The death of Dr. Hall, of the city, occurred last week. He was a well-known physician, and was held in high esteem by his patients. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon.

ARRIVAL OF THE KANGAROO. ONEWAY $10.

The Kangaroo, one of the largest and most powerful animals in the world, arrived in this city last week. It was brought from Cape Town, and will be exhibited in the largest menagerie in the world. The Kangaroo is a fine specimen, and is in excellent condition.

Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania State Fair was opened last week. It is a large and well-attended fair, and many interesting exhibits were shown. The fair will continue until the 15th of this month.

New Advertisements.

The Western and Ohio News--The weather during the past week has been very nice. The temperatures have been moderate, and the air has been fresh. The country is now in the hands of the farmers, and the crops are in good condition. The harvest is looking promising, and the farmers are busy reaping.

The Western and Ohio News--The weather during the past week has been very nice. The temperatures have been moderate, and the air has been fresh. The country is now in the hands of the farmers, and the crops are in good condition. The harvest is looking promising, and the farmers are busy reaping.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Western and Ohio News--The weather during the past week has been very nice. The temperatures have been moderate, and the air has been fresh. The country is now in the hands of the farmers, and the crops are in good condition. The harvest is looking promising, and the farmers are busy reaping.

The Western and Ohio News--The weather during the past week has been very nice. The temperatures have been moderate, and the air has been fresh. The country is now in the hands of the farmers, and the crops are in good condition. The harvest is looking promising, and the farmers are busy reaping.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Western and Ohio News--The weather during the past week has been very nice. The temperatures have been moderate, and the air has been fresh. The country is now in the hands of the farmers, and the crops are in good condition. The harvest is looking promising, and the farmers are busy reaping.