AN Oration, delivered on the 4th of July, by Daniel Wm. Stebbins, of the Sailors' Institute of Pennsylvania. By Daniel Wm. Stebbins, Esq.

On the 4th of July, 1869, in the Second Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia.

The oration of the day, delivered by Daniel Wm. Stebbins, Esq., was a most appropriate and timely tribute to the principles and ideals of the American Revolution. The orator, a prominent figure in the abolitionist movement, emphasized the importance of liberty, equality, and democracy in the progress of the nation. He spoke of the sacrifices made by the Founding Fathers and the need for continued vigilance in the defense of American ideals.

The oration concluded with a call to action, urging listeners to uphold the principles of the Revolution and to work for the betterment of society. The orator's words were received with great enthusiasm, and the audience was left with a sense of pride and purpose.

The oration was widely reported in the newspapers of the time, and its lasting impact on the discourse of the day is still felt today.
VALLEY SPIRIT—JULY 18, '60.

Thelake.

The departure of the last train of the season will mark the close of the second trip of the Indiana Central Railroad, which has been in operation for three years. The line of road is about 200 miles in length, and connects the important cities of Logansport and Terre Haute with the junction of the Wabash and Illinois Central railroads at Crawfordsville. The road is now in a state of perfect repair, and the service is conducted with the utmost punctuality and efficiency. The Indiana Central Railroad is owned and operated by the Indiana Central Railway Company, and is one of the most important lines of transportation in the state. The company has made large investments in the construction and improvement of the road, and has succeeded in establishing a profitable and successful business. The Indiana Central Railroad is an essential link in the chain of transportation that connects the interior of the state with the seaports of the Atlantic coast, and plays an important part in the commerce of the country. The company has a large and active system of railroads, and is constantly making improvements and additions to its property. The Indiana Central Railroad is managed by a capable and experienced staff of engineers and mechanics, who are well skilled in the art of railroad construction and operation. The company is in a strong financial position, and is well able to meet the demands of the business. The Indiana Central Railroad is a valuable asset to the state, and is a source of great benefit to the people. The company is constantly making improvements and additions to its property, and is well able to meet the demands of the business. The Indiana Central Railroad is a valuable asset to the state, and is a source of great benefit to the people.
Stephen A. Douglas was a senator from Illinois and a leader in the Democratic Party.
LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather Children. — Our friends, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who were visiting in our city, are now on their way back to the State of New York. They have been here for some time, and their friends have been pleased with their hospitality. They are leaving on the 18th of this month, and will return to the State of New York, where they will spend the winter.

Water Works. — The water works have been in operation for some time, and the water is flowing through the city in a perfectly satisfactory manner. The water is clear and pure, and the people are much pleased with the results.

The Council. — The council met last evening, and voted to appropriate $1000 for the purchase of a new school house. The council also voted to appropriate $500 for the purchase of a new library.

The County Fair. — The county fair was held last week in the town of Brookfield. The fair was well attended, and the exhibits were of a high order. The grand prize was awarded to Mr. John Smith for his fine sheep.

An Excellent Cook-Book. — A new cook-book was published last week, and is now on sale at the office of the Valley Spirit. The book contains a large number of recipes, and is well printed and bound.

THE WORKS OF FRANCIS HAWKINS. — A new book has been published by Mr. Francis Hawkins, entitled "The Life of a Hunter." The book is well written, and is well adapted to the purpose for which it is intended.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Music and Musical Insure.

1860.

NEW SPRING MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

New Spring Musical Instruments.

Carpeting.

Carpeting. — A new carpet, made of the finest wool, is now on sale at the office of the Valley Spirit. The carpet is well made, and is well adapted to the purpose for which it is intended.

New and Improved Methods.

New and Improved Methods.

New and Improved Methods.

New and Improved Methods.

New and Improved Methods.

New and Improved Methods.