LETTER FROM C. C. EVANS, OF CHESTER COUNTY.

To Editor:—At the meeting of the officers of the Constitutional Union party, held in the town hall, yesterday, present at the meeting were Mr. C. C. Evans, Mr. W. H. Stebbins, and Mr. J. W. Sayre. The meeting was called to order by Mr. C. C. Evans, who was elected chairman. He then moved the adoption of the resolution

Resolved, that we subscribe to the Convention of the Constitutional Union party.

The motion was seconded by Mr. W. H. Stebbins, and carried by a show of hands.

Mr. C. C. Evans then read a letter from Mr. J. W. Sayre, dated Chambersburg, October 23, 1860, in which he expressed his entire support of the Convention of the Constitutional Union party.

EMILIO C. EVANS.
Chester County, Oct. 24, 1860.

Where they go.

The best test in the North to the Constitution and the Union is whether they can hold their states in the Republican convention, or whether they can hold their states in the Democratic convention. The North is not likely to hold its states in the Republican convention, because the party there is not strong enough to do so. The South is not likely to hold its states in the Democratic convention, because the party there is not strong enough to do so. The North is more likely to hold its states in the Republican convention, because the party there is stronger than the Democratic party, and the South is more likely to hold its states in the Democratic convention, because the party there is stronger than the Republican party.

Election Prospects.

A great many Northern papers have been written on the subject of the coming election, and Mr. Lincoln has been mentioned as a candidate. His chances of success are not considered very great. He has been described as a man of great ability, but of little experience in public life. The Republicans have nominated Mr. Seward, and the Democrats have nominated Mr. Douglas. The Union party have nominated Mr. Bell. The Whigs have nominated Mr. Fillmore. The election will be a very close one, and the result will depend on the support given by the people to the different candidates.

Dissolution of the Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic State Convention of Pennsylvania, which was held in Philadelphia, has dissolved. The Democratic party has been torn asunder, and the Convention has declared that the party is no longer a united body. The Convention has voted to dissolve the party, and to hold a new convention in January. The Convention has also voted to hold a convention in the city of Philadelphia, and to hold a convention in the city of Pittsburgh, and to hold a convention in the city of Cincinnati. The Convention has also voted to hold a convention in the city of Cleveland, and to hold a convention in the city of Chicago. The Convention has also voted to hold a convention in the city of Boston, and to hold a convention in the city of New York. The Convention has also voted to hold a convention in the city of Baltimore, and to hold a convention in the city of Washington.
VALLEY SPIRIT—OCTOBER 31, '60.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCT. 30, 1860.

GEN. JOSEPH LANE,

E. YORK.

OUR FIRST OBJECT.

The main object of all good Democrats is to support the candidates of the Democratic party. This is our first object. For President, we have the honest and upright Lincoln, who is a true friend of the Union, and who will do his best to keep it whole. For Vice President, we have the able and experienced Douglas, who will do his best to assist the President in his work. Let us support these candidates, for they are the best we can get. Let us vote for the Democratic ticket, and thus do our part to keep the country united.

GEORGE W. M. KEIM.

THE THREE LEADERSHIP.

The three leaders of the Democratic party are Lincoln, Douglas, and Seward. They are the most capable men we have, and they will do their best to keep the country united. Let us support them, and thus do our part to keep the country united.

JOHN F. REID.

OUR FRIENDS.

Our friends are the men who support the Democratic party. They are the men who will do their best to keep the country united. Let us support them, for they are the men who will do their best to keep the country united.

JAMES A. JACOBS.

OUR ENEMY.

Our enemy is the man who opposes the Democratic party. He is the man who will do his best to keep the country divided. Let us not support him, for he is the man who will do his best to keep the country divided.

GEORGE W. WILLIAMS.
