The New Tariff Bill.

The New Tariff Bill of 1861 promises to yield an increased revenue of $19,920,000 above the principal import duties. It is said that the substitution of the old duties on scientific instruments and the science of war for the list of duties on cotton goods will give a revenue of $15,000,000. The duties on cotton goods are to be decreased from 50 per cent. to 33 1/3 per cent. of the value of the goods. The duties on silk and hemp, augmented to $2.00 per pound, will yield a revenue of $1,000,000. The estimated increase of duty on iron and steel is to be $32,000, and the estimated total revenue from this source is $1,725,000. The estimated increase under the present bill would be $1,325,000. The importance of sugar is to be increased by 80 per cent., and the estimated total revenue from the present bill would be $1,413,000. We have put the estimated increase of revenue from sugar at $1,413,000, and that of the new tariff at $1,325,000. The imports of wool for the last year amounted to $2,000,000, and the duty under the present bill would be $1,413,000. The imports of wool for the last year amounted to $2,000,000, and the duty under the present bill would be $1,413,000. The imports of wool, therefore, in this class, of which our interest in the manufacture of wool is so large, are regarded as far more important than any other class of imports.

In the Minnesota Convention there has been a good deal of discussion on the subject of the Federal Constitution. The convention is in session, and the President has called a special session of the legislature to consider the question of the future constitution of the territory. The convention seems to be in favor of the adoption of the Federal Constitution, and the legislature is expected to do the same. The convention is well attended, and the public is looking forward with great interest to the result of the meeting.
