SEMI-WEEKLY VALLEY SPIRIT.

CHAMBERSBURG, JULY 11, 1861.

Dear Sir:

On Sunday afternoon, our crew was charged with the management of the fire known as the "Fire of the Gen. " by thetelegraph operators at the station. The fire was not permitted to go on and, as a result, the telegraph operators were called in to assist. The fire was put out by the crew, who worked well together, and the telegraph operators were not required to do anything. The fire was extinguished at 5:00 P.M. The telegraph operators were paid $20.00 for their work.

Respectfully,

[Signature]

The London Times of the Day.

The London Times of the Day published a report of the American War which was followed by a series of articles and editorials, and the London Times was not the only newspaper that covered the war. The war was a major event in the history of the United States, and the London Times was one of the major newspapers that reported on it. The London Times was one of the leading newspapers in the United Kingdom, and it was known for its impartial and objective reporting.

The London Times of the Day.

The London Times of the Day was a British newspaper that was founded in 1810. It was one of the leading newspapers of the time, and it was known for its impartial and objective reporting. The London Times was known for its coverage of the American War, and it was one of the newspapers that reported on the war in detail. The London Times was a major newspaper, and it was known for its role in shaping public opinion on the war.