The Democracy of this State, on the platform of a new organization they have recently formed, are convinced that the old friends of secession are no longer the friends of our Constitution. They believe that the interests of the country have been subordinated to the interests of the State, and that the Union has been purchased at too great a sacrifice. They believe that the Union should be preserved at all hazards, and that the Constitution should be respected and maintained.

The Republican party, on the other hand, are convinced that the interests of the State are subservient to the interests of the Union, and that the Union should be preserved at all hazards. They believe that the Constitution should be respected and maintained, and that the interests of the country should be subordinated to the interests of the State.

The Democratic platform is a call for a new organization, a new party, a new system of government. It is a call for a new order of things, a new era of prosperity, a new era of peace. It is a call for a new era of liberty, a new era of equality, a new era of progress.

The Republican platform is a call for the preservation of the old organization, the old party, the old system of government. It is a call for the maintenance of the old order of things, a call for the perpetuation of the old era of prosperity, a call for the continuance of the old era of peace.

The Democratic party is a party of liberty, a party of progress, a party of freedom. It is a party of the people, a party of the poor, a party of the working man.

The Republican party is a party of order, a party of peace, a party of contentment. It is a party of the rich, a party of the aristocrats, a party of the privileged few.

The Democratic party is a party of the future, a party of the new era of prosperity, a party of the new era of peace.

The Republican party is a party of the past, a party of the old era of prosperity, a party of the old era of peace.
