THE TWO HEARTS.

MY CONFESSION FOR MATHEW.

My dear Matheus:

Well, well, and my father, hearing of my arraignment against him, was much surprised, seeing that in so many cases, it was my own bequest, and if he knew the story, he, I am sure, would not have been so surprised. He was not at all pleased with the idea of Matheus being put in prison, and he at once said that he would not hear of it. He would have Matheus out at once, and in the meantime, he would do all in his power to clear him. Matheus was not at all pleased with this, as he was very much afraid of being put in prison, and he at once said that he would not hear of it. He would have Matheus out at once, and in the meantime, he would do all in his power to clear him.

The next day, some people came to see Matheus, and they said to him that they would come to see him every day, and that they would do all in their power to clear him. Matheus was not at all pleased with this, as he was very much afraid of being put in prison, and he at once said that he would not hear of it. He would have Matheus out at once, and in the meantime, he would do all in his power to clear him.

But the people who had come to see Matheus were not satisfied with this, as they were very much afraid of being put in prison, and they at once said that they would do all in their power to clear him. Matheus was not at all pleased with this, as he was very much afraid of being put in prison, and he at once said that he would not hear of it.
