WENDESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 16, 1861.

NUMBER 17.

War News.

Washington, D.C.

The President's orders, dated this morning, were immediately received in the War Department. It is understood that the orders, which were issued in the name of the President of the United States, directed the Secretary of War to take such steps as he might deem necessary for the protection of the city of Washington, D.C., and to prevent any further outbreaks of violence.

The Secretary of War, in compliance with the President's orders, has directed the adjutant general to take immediate steps for the mobilization of the District of Columbia Militia. It is also understood that the orders provided for the establishment of a military police force, consisting of 500 men, to be stationed in the city of Washington, D.C., for the purpose of maintaining order and preserving the peace.

The orders further directed the adjutant general to take such steps as he might deem necessary for the protection of the public buildings and property in the city of Washington, D.C., and to prevent any further outbreaks of violence.

The Secretary of War has also directed the adjutant general to take immediate steps for the protection of the city of Washington, D.C., and to prevent any further outbreaks of violence. The orders provided for the establishment of a military police force, consisting of 500 men, to be stationed in the city of Washington, D.C., for the purpose of maintaining order and preserving the peace.

The orders further directed the adjutant general to take such steps as he might deem necessary for the protection of the public buildings and property in the city of Washington, D.C., and to prevent any further outbreaks of violence.

Further, the orders provided for the establishment of a military police force, consisting of 500 men, to be stationed in the city of Washington, D.C., for the purpose of maintaining order and preserving the peace. The orders further directed the adjutant general to take such steps as he might deem necessary for the protection of the public buildings and property in the city of Washington, D.C., and to prevent any further outbreaks of violence.

The orders also directed the adjutant general to take immediate steps for the protection of the city of Washington, D.C., and to prevent any further outbreaks of violence. The orders provided for the establishment of a military police force, consisting of 500 men, to be stationed in the city of Washington, D.C., for the purpose of maintaining order and preserving the peace. The orders further directed the adjutant general to take such steps as he might deem necessary for the protection of the public buildings and property in the city of Washington, D.C., and to prevent any further outbreaks of violence.

The orders additionally provided for the establishment of a military police force, consisting of 500 men, to be stationed in the city of Washington, D.C., for the purpose of maintaining order and preserving the peace. The orders also directed the adjutant general to take immediate steps for the protection of the city of Washington, D.C., and to prevent any further outbreaks of violence. The orders further directed the adjutant general to take such steps as he might deem necessary for the protection of the public buildings and property in the city of Washington, D.C., and to prevent any further outbreaks of violence.
VALLEY SPIRIT.

We are now in receipt of a letter from our correspondent, the Hon. John D. Black, who has just arrived from the Pacific coast, where he has been for the past six months, engaged in the promotion of the interests of the United States. He says that the country is in a flourishing condition, and that the prospect of a rapid increase in population is very bright. The climate is healthy, and the crops are abundant. The government is efficient, and the people are contented. The letter is full of interesting information, and will be published in a future number of this journal.

NEWSPAPER OF THE WEST.

The following is a letter from a correspondent of the New York Times, who has recently visited the Pacific coast:

"I have just returned from a visit to the Pacific coast, where I had the opportunity of seeing the country and the people, and I am filled with admiration for the prosperity of the country. The climate is healthy, and the crops are abundant. The government is efficient, and the people are contented. The letter is full of interesting information, and will be published in a future number of this journal."
THE RETURN.

The return of Mr. Sully to the state capital has added one more strength to the Republican party in the state. Mr. Sully has been a consistent friend of the party and a reliable statesman, and his return will be welcomed as a great gain to the Republican cause. Mr. Sully is well known for his ability and integrity, and is respected by all who know him. His return will add weight to the Republican party in the state, and will be a great help in the election campaign.

The New Yorker.

The New Yorker is a prominent figure in the Republican party, and his return will add much to the strength of the party. He is well known for his ability and integrity, and is respected by all who know him. His return will add weight to the Republican party in the state, and will be a great help in the election campaign.

THE TERROR.

The terror which has been raging in the state has been a great disaster to the Republican party. The terror has been spreading rapidly, and has caused much damage to the party. The Republicans must be on the alert to prevent the spread of the terror, and must do all in their power to put an end to it.

The Homestead Bill.

The Homestead Bill is a great benefit to the Republican party. The bill provides for the distribution of public lands to homesteaders, and will be a great help to the party. The Republicans must do all in their power to promote the passage of the bill, and must work hard to put an end to the terror which has been raging in the state.

The Split in the State.

There is a split in the state which is causing much trouble to the Republican party. The split is caused by the difference of opinion among the members of the party, and is causing much dissension. The Republicans must be on the alert to prevent the split from growing larger, and must do all in their power to put an end to it.

The Election.

The election is coming up, and the Republicans must be on the alert to put up a strong campaign. The Republicans must do all in their power to win the election, and must work hard to put an end to the terror which has been raging in the state.
COMMUNICATION FROM THE ST. LOUIS PUBLISHING AND PRINTING HOUSE TO THE NEW YORK TIMES.

The war in the West is now in full swing. The Confederates have made a series of successful attacks on the Union forces in the West, and the situation is critical. The Union army is suffering from a lack of supplies and manpower.

The Union army, led by General Ulysses S. Grant, is moving towards Vicksburg, Mississippi, to cut off the Confederates from their supply lines. The Confederate forces, led by General Robert E. Lee, are preparing to defend their position.

The Union navy is also facing a critical situation. The Confederate navy, led by Admiral Raphael Semmes, has been successfully blockading the Union ports. The Union navy is struggling to break the blockade and supply their forces in the West.

The situation is critical, and the outcome of the war is uncertain. The Union and Confederate armies are fighting with determination, and the war is likely to last for months or even years.