NUMBER 19.

War News.
FROM GEN. STEVENS COMMAND.

The Battle of Blackburn's Ford.
Further particulars.

Washington, October 23.
General McClellan's wagon trains and the rear of the army are still in motion toward the army of the Potomac, and the enemy are endeavoring to make a stand at Sharpsburg. The Federals crossed the Potomac at Sewall's Point last night, and another column is expected this morning to establish a corps base on the left of the Potomac. The bridges will be destroyed on the right of Sewall's Point, and the enemy are retreating to the right. The climate is growing colder, and the rivers are beginning to freeze over. The front line of the enemy is moved to the left, and the Federals are in a strong position on the heights of Culp's Hill.

The Battle of Antietam.
Washington, October 24.
The battle of Antietam was fought yesterday, and the Federals have gained a victory. The enemy's line was broken in two places, and the Federals have taken many prisoners. The battle was fought on both sides of the Antietam River, and the Federals have gained a decisive advantage. The losses on both sides are heavy, and the Federals have captured many of the enemy's equipment.

SAD CALLS.

On most solemn occasions, and in the presence of deep sorrows, is the end of life a seeming joy and consolation, a source of comfort and encouragement. The death of Mrs. Rosewell, of Woonsocket, occurred in a most unexpected and unexpected manner. No one could have predicted the end of life, and yet, when it came, it was unexpected, it was a burden. Mrs. Rosewell was a beloved mother, a faithful friend, and a devoted wife. She was always generous, always kind, always willing to help others. Her death was a great loss to the community, and will be remembered with love and respect. May her memory be a blessing to all who knew her. Amen.

VALLEY SPIRIT

CHAMBERLAIN, AUG. 12, 1861.

To the Editor of the Valley Spirit.

Honorable Sir: — Having received a most obliging invitation to contribute to your valuable periodical, I have consented to do so, in the expectation that my article will be read with the same gratification, and with the same appreciation that I have received of the productions of the sparrow, the wren, or the sparrow hawk, which are the ordinary visitors of my garden. I have been a subscriber to the Valley Spirit for many years, and have always found it a most agreeable and interesting publication. I am, therefore, happy to have the opportunity of expressing my thoughts on the subject of the war, and I trust that they may be received with the same good will that I have received them from you.

Respectfully, yours,

[Signature]

P. S. I have read with great interest the recent article on the subject of agriculture, and I am confident that it will be of great service to the farmers of the country.

Valley Spirit, August 12, 1861

October 30, 1861.

The Smiths of Smith's Mill.

We were much surprised by the recent announcement of our friends, the Smiths of Smith's Mill, that they had decided to remove their mill to a new location. We have always had a great regard for the Smiths, and we were very much disappointed to hear of their decision. We understand that the new location is to be in a more central position, and we hope that this will be a great advantage to their business. We are sure that they will be successful in their new venture, and we wish them every success.
