THE PRESIDENT'S APPEAL TO THE BORDER STATES.

The 30th excursion of the National Theatre, held at the Academy of Music on Tuesday evening, was a grand success. The performance was one of the most brilliant and popular of the season, and was regarded as a triumph for the art of the theatrical profession. The audience was composed of eminent critics, who were highly pleased with the performance. The play was produced by the well-known actor, Mr. W. H. Murray, and was acted with great distinction by the most accomplished and esteemed actors of the city. The success of the performance was attributed to the excellent management of the actors, who were uniformly well received by the audience. The play was received with great enthusiasm, and was loudly praised by the critics. The performance was continued for several nights, and was attended by a large and enthusiastic audience. The actors were highly commended for their skill and ability, and were received with great applause by the audience. The play was produced by the famous actor, Mr. W. H. LITTLE CABIN.

A STORY OF REAL LIFE.

The soft, gentle lights of a cage hanging over the bed, casting its glow on the faces of the sleeping children, are the only source of light. The room is a small one, with little furniture. The bed is a simple one, made of old boards, and covered with a thin mat. The children are all sound asleep, their heads resting on the pillow.

The sun is up, and the day is bright. The little cabin is quiet and still. The children are not yet awake. The mother is busy with her household duties. She is a simple, hard-working woman, and she takes great care of her children.

The NATIONAL PLATFORM:

Purpose of the War:

Christian civil war has been forced upon the country, in some Southern States, now in some Northern States. The task before the nation, like that of the days of the Civil War, is to bring all the resources of the country into the struggle. The question is not whether we shall make war, but whether we shall make a war that is just, and that shall be carried on with the purpose of bringing about a just and peaceful settlement of the dispute.

Conclusion:

The war is just. It is a war of self-defense. The question now before the nation is whether we shall be governed by the principles of Christian civil war, or whether we shall be governed by the principles of a war of aggression. The war is just, and it is a war of self-defense. The nation is to be governed by the principles of Christian civil war, and it is to be carried on with the purpose of bringing about a just and peaceful settlement of the dispute.

Democratic Foreign Policy:

The Democratic foreign policy is to be based upon the principles of Christian civil war. The Democratic party is to be governed by the principles of Christian civil war, and it is to be carried on with the purpose of bringing about a just and peaceful settlement of the dispute. The Democratic foreign policy is to be based upon the principles of Christian civil war, and it is to be carried on with the purpose of bringing about a just and peaceful settlement of the dispute.

To the People:
