The article is not legible due to the image quality.
Latest Telegraphic News

Latest from Charleston

The Attack upon the U.S. Consul in Charleston

A BARE MAID. — There are indications that the United States Consul in Charleston, Mr. E. C. Parke, has been attacked by a negro woman. The Consul's residence is in a black man's district, and the negroes have been known to be very hostile to the whites. The attack took place last night, and the Consul received several wounds, but he is expected to recover.

THE HUNGER FROG. — We see that the Hunger Frog, which was killed by the Arkansas sharp-shooter, has been captured by the Federal forces. The frog was the size of a small dog, and was found in the Arkansas River. The Federal forces have taken it to a safe place, away from the enemy.

THE MARKETS

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS

By News From the Field:

General Sherman's Expedition

General Sherman's Expedition has been successful in his operations against the Confederates. The Union forces have captured several important towns, and have taken a large number of prisoners.

EMPLOYMENT OFFICE

Employment notices in the classified employment office of the local newspaper.

A LETTER FROM HOME

Letter from a soldier stationed in the field. The soldier describes the conditions of life in the army, and the hardships endured by the troops.

The Holidays are coming and

The holidays are approaching, and the people are preparing for them. The streets are decorated with lights, and the shops are filled with Christmas trees.

The Generalalways keeps the doors

The General is always ready to assist those in need. He is known for his generosity and his kindness. Everyone in the community admires him for his good works.

A. J. White, the Publisher.

A.J. White is the publisher of this newspaper. He is a well-known figure in the community, and is respected for his contributions to the community.

Gentlemen:

Gentlemen, we are pleased to announce that the business has been very good this year. The profits have been very high, and we are looking forward to a successful future.

Sincerely yours,

A. J. White