A CONVICT STORY.

The Waspian Inn.

The Waspian Inn.

[Text continues on page 3.]
GRAND OPENING

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

EYSTER & BRO.

We have just returned from the West, with a LARGE AND VARIED stock of reasonable DRY GOODS, which we will dispose of AT A SMALL ADVANCE ON COST. We have our usual line of MILLER & HENSSY

PHARMACY

DRUGS & MEDICINES

BY TOLL, WESTON & CRUMP

BUTTER, HONEY & BUTTER MUNSON & HERSHLEY

I W. G. WILSON

GRAND OPENING

IN OUR NEW STORES.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA.

November 1st, 1860.

PRACTICAL DENTIST

VETERINARY ARM AND CURE

COUESURES AND CROSES.

THE LATER MODEL AND BEST IMPORTED.

A large stock of Fancy Gloves.

HATS:

The largest assortment of Ladies' and Children's Western Hats.

BROOCH SHAWLS:

Jewel from Austria.

LINES HANDKERCHIEVES:

Hemstitched and Pined, white edge new.

MOETTOING GOODS:

Creme Yell, all sizes, 60 cents, 6.00 dollars.

MACHINES FOR MILLS, SPINNERS, ETC.

BETTER MANNING SPOOL DRY GOODS.

THE DRAFT!

WM. GELWICKS, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCER.

LISTS OF COMMISSION MERCHANTS, MILLERS, ETC., AT MARKET PRICES.

The Center Financial News

The Administration's financial policy is based on the idea that the country must be able to pay its way. This policy involves a reduction in the national debt, which has been a major concern of the nation. The Administration believes that the current economic conditions make it necessary to implement this policy. The policy involves a reduction in government spending and increasing taxes.

The Administration has been successful in reducing the national debt, but the country is still facing economic challenges. The Administration is working on a plan to address these challenges and improve the economy.

In conclusion, the Administration's financial policy is designed to help the country pay its way and reduce the national debt. The Administration is committed to implementing this policy and ensuring the country's economic prosperity.

The Administration's Financial Policy

The Administration has implemented a financial policy that is designed to reduce the national debt and improve the economy. The policy involves a reduction in government spending and increasing taxes. The Administration believes that the current economic conditions make it necessary to implement this policy.

The Administration has been successful in reducing the national debt, but the country is still facing economic challenges. The Administration is working on a plan to address these challenges and improve the economy.

In conclusion, the Administration's financial policy is designed to help the country pay its way and reduce the national debt. The Administration is committed to implementing this policy and ensuring the country's economic prosperity.

The Administration's Financial Policy

The Administration has implemented a financial policy that is designed to reduce the national debt and improve the economy. The policy involves a reduction in government spending and increasing taxes. The Administration believes that the current economic conditions make it necessary to implement this policy.

The Administration has been successful in reducing the national debt, but the country is still facing economic challenges. The Administration is working on a plan to address these challenges and improve the economy.

In conclusion, the Administration's financial policy is designed to help the country pay its way and reduce the national debt. The Administration is committed to implementing this policy and ensuring the country's economic prosperity.

The Administration's Financial Policy

The Administration has implemented a financial policy that is designed to reduce the national debt and improve the economy. The policy involves a reduction in government spending and increasing taxes. The Administration believes that the current economic conditions make it necessary to implement this policy.

The Administration has been successful in reducing the national debt, but the country is still facing economic challenges. The Administration is working on a plan to address these challenges and improve the economy.

In conclusion, the Administration's financial policy is designed to help the country pay its way and reduce the national debt. The Administration is committed to implementing this policy and ensuring the country's economic prosperity.

The Administration's Financial Policy

The Administration has implemented a financial policy that is designed to reduce the national debt and improve the economy. The policy involves a reduction in government spending and increasing taxes. The Administration believes that the current economic conditions make it necessary to implement this policy.

The Administration has been successful in reducing the national debt, but the country is still facing economic challenges. The Administration is working on a plan to address these challenges and improve the economy.

In conclusion, the Administration's financial policy is designed to help the country pay its way and reduce the national debt. The Administration is committed to implementing this policy and ensuring the country's economic prosperity.

The Administration's Financial Policy

The Administration has implemented a financial policy that is designed to reduce the national debt and improve the economy. The policy involves a reduction in government spending and increasing taxes. The Administration believes that the current economic conditions make it necessary to implement this policy.

The Administration has been successful in reducing the national debt, but the country is still facing economic challenges. The Administration is working on a plan to address these challenges and improve the economy.

In conclusion, the Administration's financial policy is designed to help the country pay its way and reduce the national debt. The Administration is committed to implementing this policy and ensuring the country's economic prosperity.

The Administration's Financial Policy

The Administration has implemented a financial policy that is designed to reduce the national debt and improve the economy. The policy involves a reduction in government spending and increasing taxes. The Administration believes that the current economic conditions make it necessary to implement this policy.

The Administration has been successful in reducing the national debt, but the country is still facing economic challenges. The Administration is working on a plan to address these challenges and improve the economy.

In conclusion, the Administration's financial policy is designed to help the country pay its way and reduce the national debt. The Administration is committed to implementing this policy and ensuring the country's economic prosperity.