LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

THE FISK FAMILY.—The family of Rev. Mr. Fisk, from Maryland, located in the Pennsylvania Supreme Court at the last session, have returned to their home.

The following appears among the leading cases decided by the Court:

The case of Commonwealth v. Brinton, in which the defendant was convicted of murder, was reversed on appeal, and the conviction set aside.

A case of great importance was decided in the Court of Chancery involving the rights of the State in the execution of a contract for the sale of public lands. The decision of the Court was in favor of the State, and the contract was declared void.

Two other cases were argued before the Court, one involving the rights of the State in the collection of taxes, and the other concerning the rights of the State in the execution of a contract for the construction of a public works project. In both cases the Court rendered favorable decisions to the State.

In the case of Commonwealth v. Smith, the defendant was found guilty of theft and sentenced to five years in prison.

The following cases were decided by the Court:

1. Commonwealth v. Brown, in which the defendant was convicted of theft and sentenced to three years in prison.

2. Commonwealth v. Johnson, in which the defendant was convicted of assault and sentenced to six months in jail.

3. Commonwealth v. Mason, in which the defendant was found guilty of fraud and sentenced to ten years in prison.

4. Commonwealth v. Price, in which the defendant was convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to seven years in prison.

5. Commonwealth v. Austin, in which the defendant was convicted of burglary and sentenced to five years in prison.

6. Commonwealth v. Parker, in which the defendant was convicted of larceny and sentenced to three years in prison.

7. Commonwealth v. Martin, in which the defendant was found guilty of false pretenses and sentenced to two years in prison.

8. Commonwealth v. Wilson, in which the defendant was convicted of murder and sentenced to death.

9. Commonwealth v. Green, in which the defendant was convicted of attempted murder and sentenced to life imprisonment.

10. Commonwealth v. Edwards, in which the defendant was convicted of assault and sentenced to one year in jail.

The following cases were decided by the Court:

1. Commonwealth v. Smith, in which the defendant was convicted of theft and sentenced to three years in prison.

2. Commonwealth v. Johnson, in which the defendant was convicted of assault and sentenced to six months in jail.

3. Commonwealth v. Mason, in which the defendant was found guilty of fraud and sentenced to ten years in prison.

4. Commonwealth v. Price, in which the defendant was convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to seven years in prison.

5. Commonwealth v. Austin, in which the defendant was convicted of burglary and sentenced to five years in prison.

6. Commonwealth v. Parker, in which the defendant was convicted of larceny and sentenced to three years in prison.

7. Commonwealth v. Martin, in which the defendant was found guilty of false pretenses and sentenced to two years in prison.

8. Commonwealth v. Wilson, in which the defendant was convicted of murder and sentenced to death.

9. Commonwealth v. Green, in which the defendant was convicted of attempted murder and sentenced to life imprisonment.

10. Commonwealth v. Edwards, in which the defendant was convicted of assault and sentenced to one year in jail.
