THE MILITARY DEPARTURE.

The army of General Grant moved forward from Louisville at the end of the month, and proceeded to the sea. The army of General Buell was ordered to follow it, and the army of General Pope was ordered to follow him. The army of General McCulloch was ordered to follow General Buell, and the army of General Pope was ordered to follow General Buell. The army of General Sherman was ordered to follow General Buell, and the army of General Pope was ordered to follow General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

GENERAL ORDER.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.

The army of General Grant, under the command of General Buell, was ordered to follow the army of General Pope, and the army of General Sherman was ordered to follow the army of General Buell.