VALLEY SPIRIT.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA.

VOLUME 15. WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 2, 1860. NUMBER 45.

visited by many, particularly from Boston. From Boston to this place the country, with occasional variation, is sterile, interspersed with a succession of hills and mountains.

and interesting journey up the St. Lawrence. The scenery was splendid both on the American and British side of the River.

BY TELEGRAPH. FOR THE VALLEY SPIRIT. FROM CHARLESTON. CHARLESTON, Thursday 29.

The National Convention assembled this morning at 10 o'clock. The proceedings opened with prayer.

Mr. Walker of Miss. offered an amendment declaring it to be the duty of the Government to afford legal protection to all classes of property, slave or otherwise, in the Territories, or on the high seas.

A dozen or more resolutions were presented, with regard to slavery in the Territories, by various delegates, and referred to the platform Committee.

A resolution on the Tariff being presented, Isaiah Rynders, of New York, proposed to include Monongahela whiskey in the articles to be protected.

Mr. Bayard, of Delaware, hoped the Convention would not be made to appear ridiculous before the country by these resolutions, and moved that they be referred without reading.

Mr. Rynders said he desired by amendment to put a stop to them, and he had succeeded.

The Committee on the platform not being ready to report, the Convention adjourned until 4 o'clock.

A great sectional excitement prevails to-night among the politicians gathered here. The delay in the report of the platform Committee and their inability to agree seems to have hastened the crisis.

The Southern cotton States are rampant. They threaten positively to leave the Convention and nominate Jefferson Davis, of Mississippi, for President, and Fernando Wood, of New York, for Vice President, unless the platform repudiates the doctrine of Squatter Sovereignty.

Senator Douglas has telegraphed to his friends to accept the Cincinnati Platform and Dred Scott decision, but not to go one step beyond.

The platform Committee will meet again at 7 o'clock this evening. Each member was consulted with, and received the instructions of his Delegation.

It is said that Mississippi, Texas, Louisiana, Florida and Alabama will leave in case of a bare up, and probably Georgia and South Carolina.

To-morrow promises to be a most exciting day. Mr. Yancey is cocked and primed, and the fire-eaters generally are in great excitement.

[Midnight.] The Committee on platform have adopted the Cincinnati platform, with the following additional declarations.

The Committee on platform have adopted the Cincinnati platform, with the following additional declarations.

platform was presented. Mr. Avery said, that although the report was signed by the delegates from 15 Slave States and only 2 Free States, he denied that any feeling of sectionalism has influenced the majority.

Mr. Clark of Missouri stated that although he signed the majority report, he did not and would not vote for the third resolution which is as follows: Resolved that it is the duty of the Federal Government to protect, when necessary, the rights of persons and property on the High Seas, in Territories or wherever else its Constitutional authority extends.

Mr. Avery called attention to the fact that the majority report represents 127 certain Democratic electoral votes, whilst the minority do not represent one electoral vote that can be claimed as certain.

In the speeches of Avery, of North Carolina, and Yancy of Alabama, in support of the Slave code policy, no new arguments were advanced and their remarks consisted chiefly of a rebash of the old charges of encroachment upon the rights of the South and want of fidelity on the part of the Northern Democracy to Southern interests.

Mr. Yancey contended that even the platform reported by the majority of the Committee, fell far short of what the South should in justice demand and obtain, and while he was willing to accept that report as a compromise, he avowed his preference for a dissolution of the Union to any further abatement of what he considered the just rights of his section of the Union.

He was evidently put forward as the leading champion of the freeters, but his speech was not in any respect equal to the eloquent effort of Gov. King, of Missouri, in support of the minority report.

The able defense by the latter of the Northern Democracy and of the doctrine of popular sovereignty excited tremendous applause.

Yancey made no attempt to reply to King, although he apparently rose for that purpose.

In his allusion to popular sovereignty, he ridiculed it, and asserted that the South would never submit to the application of such a doctrine to the Territories.

He contended that in the North this subject could have no deep interest, as to her people it was a mere abstraction, for they had no property upon which it would injuriously operate, while the South had everything at stake, and for her the whole question was invested with incalculable importance.

When Senator Pugh of Ohio, in reply to Mr. Yancey read the resolutions adopted by the Alabama Democracy in 1858 endorsing Popular Sovereignty which were written by Yancey, the vast assembly was convulsed with laughter.

Great indignation was created in the Pennsylvania delegation to-day by the extensive circulation of Senator Bayard's resolution in print under the heading of Pennsylvania's proposition. It is said that this is a scheme of Senators Bigler and Sibley, to create a false impression that Pennsylvania desired such a platform.

It is supposed Butler's object in not signing the regular minority report was to damage Douglas, but it had a contrary effect. It showed the South that Douglas men were more willing to make concessions than the Cushing men with whom Butler acts.

It is now believed the Alabama Delegation intend to withdraw if the minority report is adopted, and that the Delegations from Mississippi, Texas and Louisiana have promised to follow.

South Carolina, Florida and Georgia are expected to do the same and form a Convention and nominate Hunter of Vermont for President, and Davis of Mississippi for Vice President, or vice versa.

The secessionists contend that if the Democratic party fail to receive a majority of the electoral vote the South's only hope is to throw the election to the House where she will have a majority of the States, counting California and Oregon.

The Convention met at 10 o'clock this morning, and the proceedings were opened by prayer.

half-past five. Mr. Avery reported from the Committee the majority report. It is a combination of those of Bayard, of Delaware, Cushman, of New York, and Bigler, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Sumner of Iowa presented the minority report, electing congressional intervention, declaring that whether Congress or the Territorial Legislature have the power to intervene, depends upon the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, which decision they pledge the Democratic party to sustain and abide by.

Mr. Sumner sustained the report by a powerful, earnest and effective appeal, free from all bitterness.

Butler, of Massachusetts presented the minor minority report, signed by Illinois, Minnesota, Massachusetts, and Indiana, consisting of the Cincinnati platform, pure and simple.

Mr. Stephens, of Georgia obtained the floor, and proceeded to sustain the majority report.

Mr. Roland J. Brent, of Maryland took the ground that although opposed to Squatter Sovereignty, he must still as a matter of policy sustain the position of non-intervention.

Burrows, of Arkansas, followed on the Southern side of the question in a violent and inflammatory manner. He would consider the northern Democrats worse than the Black Republicans if they failed to sustain the South in the contest.

Ohio demanded that the vote on adjournment be taken by States. The vote resulted as follows: yeas 97, nays 205.

Douglas men voted against adjournment, and many Douglas opponents in favor of it.

Jackson, of Georgia, asked suspension of rules so he could offer a resolution. This proposition received shouts of opposition indicating bitterness of feeling unprecedented. The previous question was ordered by acclamation.

Another motion to adjourn was lost. Mr. Lawrence, of Louisiana, inquired whether a motion to adjourn sine die was in order. The President decided it was not at this time.

A motion from Georgia to lay all the resolutions on the table was lost—yeas 204 nays 280. Another motion to adjourn was lost.

Parliamentary tactics were then employed to save off the main question. A scene of confusion here ensued that was almost deafening.

The President, Mr. Cushing, said if this contest and uproar continued, he would feel in duty bound to himself, and the convention, to leave the chair.

Mr. Hunter, of Louisiana, hoped his friends would consent to ordering the main question.

Mr. Owens, of Florida, as a Southern man, hoped that this contest would cease. Northern gentlemen have fairly met us in argument. [Cheers.]

After a scene of great excitement a hundred voices addressing the convention at once, and all shouting at the top of their voices, an adjournment was effected.

on the whole and portions of Louisiana and other States will protest their protest and withdraw from the Convention.

THE PHILADELPHIA ELECTION.

COLONIZATION OF VOTERS. DARING ATTEMPT AT FRAUD!

Some little excitement was created in this Borough on Friday last, from the fact, that an announcement was made in the Philadelphia Ledger of the arrest of B. A. Smedley, and of his affidavit to the effect that he was induced to go to Philadelphia to vote at the coming spring election.

It now appears that several other persons have been sent to the city for the same purpose. Others at this place, have been approached and asked to go to Philadelphia. One stated that he was "asked to go to the time of his stay there. Some who have returned home say they were to have the same wages." It has been stated that a person in Upper Merion township was asked if he could not promise one hundred persons. Whether this is true, of course, we do not know. But one thing is certain, some persons have been induced from Philadelphia to this place and the Democrats of the city should be on the alert. To say the least of it, it is a discreditable business, and must ultimately recoil terribly upon the Party and persons engaged in such a mean and contemptible business. The following is Smedley's affidavit:—

"Personally appeared before me, an Alderman to and for the city of Philadelphia Benjamin A. Smedley, who, being duly sworn according to law, hath deposed and said, that he is a resident of Norristown, Pa., and that he has been induced to move into Philadelphia for the purpose of voting the 'People's Ticket' at the next May election, and that they (meaning Ford, Jones and others) have procured for him a boarding-house in Second street, above Columbia avenue, at the house of James Watson. Deponent further says that there are in this city at present a large number of residents of Norristown and Plumtown, who have been brought to Philadelphia for the same purpose.

(Signed) BENJAMIN A. SMEDLEY. Sworn and subscribed before me, this 20th day of April, 1860. WILLIAM McMULLEN, Alderman.

It is further stated that large numbers of persons will be sent from different places to vote in Philadelphia.—Nor. Reg.

[From the Boston Traveller, April 11.] Eclipse of the Planet Venus, Mars and Jupiter, by the Moon.

An occultation of a planet at any particular place, under favorable circumstances for observation, is an event of such rare occurrence that it cannot be expected oftener than once in four or five years.—Indeed, at the Observatory at Cambridge, only one (that of Jupiter, in August, 1856) has been seen since the beginning of 1852.

The happening, therefore, of four of these phenomena in a large part of this country in a single month, between the 24th of the present April, and the 25th of May next, is very remarkable.

The first of the four, and the most beautiful and interesting of the whole, is that of Venus, on the evening of Tuesday next, 24th inst. This occultation will take place when the planet is quite high, and nearly at the position of its greatest brilliancy.—It will be visible in the British provinces, and in that part of the United States situated northerly of a line drawn from Albatross Sound, a little south of Norfolk and north of Cincinnati, to Davenport, Iowa; beyond that line the planet will not be eclipsed, but will pass south of the moon.

Its disappearance behind the dark edge may be seen by the naked eye, but better through an opera glass. Through a telescope Venus will appear similar to our moon the day before its last quarter, as a about three-fifths of its illuminated disc will be turned toward the earth.

About midnight of Thursday, April 26, Jupiter will be eclipsed in the northern part of New Hampshire and Maine, and some of the British provinces; but in the southern part of New England the least distance of the edge of the planet and our satellite will be about one-twentieth the diameter of the latter.

The third of these occultations will be that of Mars, in the morning before sunrise of Thursday, May 10. It will be visible in a large part of the United States and the British provinces. As the moon will then be about five days past the full, the emission will take place on the dark side. The color of Mars will be a fiery red, as it will be quite near the earth; indeed, at Mars' opposition to the sun, on July 17th next, it will be nearer to us than for several years, with a high southern declination, thus giving the astronomers at Cape Cod hope of determining its real size and rare opportunity for determining its parallax with greater precision.

The fourth of this extraordinary series of occultations is that of Jupiter in the forenoon of Thursday, May 24, which also will be visible in a large part of the country, but which, being close upon the sun in above the horizon, cannot be seen, except with the aid of a heliograph telescope.

CHARLESTON, S. C. Monday, 80. The Convention met at 10 o'clock this morning, and the proceedings were opened by prayer.

Mr. Cushing, the President, apologized for the harsh language he used during the disorderly proceedings on Saturday evening. However he considered it his duty to speak plainly and positively.

The President announced the first business in order to be a vote on the main question which was the substitute offered by Mr. Butler on behalf of Massachusetts, Minnesota, Indiana, and New Jersey (not Illinois) presenting the Cincinnati platform with resolutions for the protection of citizens of foreign birth.

The vote being taken on the Butler platform it was rejected by nearly a two-third vote—yeas 108, nays 198. When New Jersey was called a delegate stated that the Cincinnati platform was called for and that he had recommended that the vote be taken on the Butler platform.

THE OLD PRINTER.
Something of a Pious Plodder, but no near the Prick to make much of.

I see him at his work,
With his hair, his eyes, his nose
And the upper meaning elixir,
As they drop within his stick,
Seems of life's old clock the tick,
Humming low.

Years, years ago have I seen,
And the printer long I know,
My hand and mine,
Time was when step alone
Distinguished his tall,
And his form was tall and straight,
We now see.

You could see him every day,
As he passed along the way,
To his lot,
He'd be there at night and morn,
A living soul to gaze,
An honest interest, well maintain
In the soil.

And type was high at first,
And the golden chest he nursed,
Till I found
That he was but a plate
In a cold and frosty air,
And the promise, pestered fair,
Marrow ground.

He never was rec'd his bid,
But I've seen him smile right glad
At "leaded" news
While a corresponding from
Would spread his features round,
While a "rite" of a word would sound,
It "leaves" close.

Long years he's labored on,
The morning hours are gone
From his eye;
For others are his hours,
And his days like passing air,
Fitting up.

What is the difference between one who walks and one who looks? One steps up stairs and the other stares up steps.

The editor who lived his sword, saying,
"Please exchange," is believed not to have needed the "proper library of the press."

To see me for a million on the man who picks it, requires you to weigh every barrel of flour you purchase.

You can no more be sure to fortune on a lot of wishes, than you can go to Heaven in a balloon made of Bibles and inflated with camp meeting gas.

Never purchase a barrel without taking it a month upon trial. There is no knowing where the bird has been brought up.

There is a young man in Vermont who feeds his goose on iron filings, and gathers steel pens from his wings.
