We would call the attention of our readers to an article we publish in another column, taken from the London Chronicle—a fierce anti-slavery journal, on the subject of cotton supply.

You think, because I'm four or five years, And built a little taller than you are, My life is more of ease and ease, And that my blessings on me rest.

But nothing more to me is left, Than to add years, each one a year, To my misgivings on the way.

Remember that the watered field, Just as it fails to rise no more, Declines for a period brief, A brighter field than ever it wore.

Remember, too, the great complaint, That when their parents' home is here, Shall live long in the promised land, And revel in its bounteous cheer.

What though my hair be white as snow, My forehead by age's rays may furrow, My body feel the burden long, And I sleep as I can turn to bed.

But he who gets his blood for all, I hope has had one drop of grace, When he stood for a while in prayer, On the high cross of Calvary.

And, best of all, a little band (Of holy lips) climb up my knees, And ramble with me, hand in hand, Along the brook, among the trees.

VALLEY SPIRIT. CHAMBERSBURG, PA. Wednesday Evening June 16, 1860. RIFAN S. NEUGEL, Publisher and Proprietor. FOR GOVERNOR, HENRY D. FOSTER, Of Westmoreland.

CORRIGENDUM.

The Senate on Friday last reconsidered the resolution for closing the session on the 18th inst., and adopted an amendment fixing on the 20th inst. for final adjournment. The House will no doubt concur in this, and perhaps propose a further extension of the session. The Tariff Bill was under consideration on Friday when Mr. BRIDGES, of Pennsylvania, made an able speech in favor of its adoption. Considerable debate sprung up in the Senate, while this measure was under consideration, in which HUNTER, of Virginia, SEWARD, of New York, BREWER, of Pennsylvania, and other Senators participated. When the vote was taken on the motion to postpone the Bill it was agreed to—25 voting in favor of the postponement, and 23 against it. The overland Telegraph Bill has at length passed both Houses. The Senate receded from its amendment which put in the name of Zenas Barnum and others as corporators, and agreed to the House amendment allowing the Postmaster General to advertise for proposals to build the line. Mr. MASON, from the Special Committee on the Harper's Ferry Road, made their report to the Senate and were discharged from further consideration of the subject. The report comprises one hundred and fifty foolscap pages, exclusive of the voluminous testimony. The Senate on motion of Mr. MASON passed a resolution authorizing the discharge of Thaddeus Hyatt from confinement in the Washington prison for contempt in refusing to answer before the Harper's Ferry Committee. The House has refused to accept the Senate's amendment to the Homestead Bill, and thus this measure has been defeated. The Bill increasing the appropriation for returning the captured Africans, from $200,000 to $250,000 was disposed of by the Senate. The Army Appropriation Bill was under consideration and will no doubt consume much time in adjusting as sundry amendments have been attached to the original bill. It is not likely that much business of importance will be transacted in either branches during the sitting of the Baltimore Convention, and after its adjournment the business of six months will be crowded into a few days.

What we Were and what we Are. When, in July, 1776, the representatives of the thirteen States assembled in Philadelphia, to consult on the means that should be adopted to protect themselves from the oppressive laws of the mother country, the free population of this whole country was probably less than three millions.

The inhabited part of the country was a narrow belt stretching along the Atlantic coast. Let us look at the map, and put down State after State, just where they are now planted. Push Maine off of the eastern part of Massachusetts, and Vermont from the west side of New Hampshire, (for these two States do not belong to the original thirteen,) and then mark off the fifteen noble States of Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana, Illinois, Arkansas, Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa, Alabama, Florida, Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi. And now, when we reflect upon this, what must we think of that for a growth of eighty years? But that is not all; we have omitted California, with its exhaustless wealth of gold, Minnesota, Oregon, Kansas, and the vast country of Territories which are ours, and will be knocking at the congressional door before many years to be admitted into the family of sister States.

And what, we may well ask, has brought about this gigantic growth of our country? What has caused this unprecedented growth from thirteen to thirty-three States, and this enormous increase of population from three to at least thirty millions? The answer is plain and easily given: Our free and liberal principles. It was for them that our forefathers pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor. Freedom was the price for which they bled and died—These precious principles have been handed down to posterity.

But, we may further ask, who has advocated and upheld those free and liberal principles? We shall see.—TIMOTHY JEFFERSON, who has just been styled the father of the Democratic party, had caused the obnoxious "Alien and Sedition Law" to be expunged from the statutes; he had the infamous gag law, that had been introduced by the elder Adams, repealed; he advocated freedom of conscience and freedom of speech. MADISON and MONROE followed in his footsteps. The fearless JACKSON was not behind any of them. He gave the British, who attempted to trample upon our rights, a complete drubbing, and made the Nullifiers of South Carolina, who had rebelled against their country, to feel the mark and give up their treasonable design. Since the days of JACKSON every Democratic administration has nobly defended and battled for the free and liberal principles which were his. The star-spangled banner is waving over this land of the free and the home of the brave, and our country's flag is seen on every sea in the world.

All the great measures tending to the prosperity and happiness of the people of this country have been advocated by Democratic administrations, and the people have nobly sustained them.—Look at the war of 1812 with England; look at the war with Mexico, will any man of common sense deny that these wars have been beneficial to us? And were not these wars carried forward under Democratic administrations? Did not the Opposition oppose them? Did not Opposition members of Congress vote against supplies for our armies in Mexico? Why these facts have become so historical that every school-boy is familiar with them.

The Democratic party asks nothing but what is right and just, and will submit to nothing that is wrong. Its aims and ever has been the promulgation of our free and liberal principles.—Under them our country has prospered and will continue to prosper for ages to come. They have made it the home of millions of the oppressed, where they too can enjoy the blessings of freedom. May these principles be engraven upon every breast, and may they be carried and spread into every part of our great country.

Report of Judge Black on California Land Claims.

We have received and will publish in our paper of next week the able report of the Attorney General of the United States upon California Land Claims, prepared by direction of the President in answer to a resolution of the House of Representatives calling for information as to the manner in which certain appropriations had been expended. We recommend that no one of our readers omit to peruse it. Besides giving a condensed statement concerning the most important of these claims, the Report, written in Judge Black's usual plain, direct, terse and forcible style, will be found to contain much valuable information upon the general subject, with which the public is not very familiar. The literary merits alone of this paper would entitle it to great consideration, for it is well known that there are but few writers in the country, professional or otherwise, so skillful in the use of the pen. But to the public it is chiefly valuable for the revelation it makes of a most monstrous system of frauds, perpetrated by Mexican officials and other persons in California until recently of spotless reputation, and to which certainly the history of our country furnishes no parallel. By the means put into operation by Judge Black and principally by the invaluable assistance rendered by E. M. Stanton, Esq., well known in this State, the tangled yarn of this outrageous conspiracy against the public treasury and the private rights of individuals, has been unravelled and so thoroughly exposed that we anticipate there will be but little difficulty in defeating the claims of like character now pending in the District Courts of California and the Supreme Court at Washington. While the Black Republicans are making a great outcry about what they call the wasteful and reckless extravagance of the administration, we have the evidence in this report of the saving to the government and the public of property valued at one hundred million of dollars, principally by the energy, the vigilance and integrity of a single member of the Cabinet. The object of the resolution of the House, to which this report is a reply, was to obtain evidence of corruption, or at least, wastefulness in the expenditure of the large appropriations made by Congress and placed under direction of the Attorney General's office for "extraordinary expense of California Land Claims." But the Black Republicans have found themselves "hoisted by their own petard," for the exhibits and vouchers appended to the report show not only that the appropriations have been expended economically, but under a most rigid system of accountability; and the report shows, as before stated, the saving of at least one hundred millions of dollars in property to the Government and honest settlers upon the public lands. This achievement alone would have made an enviable reputation for Judge Black if he had not already made his mark upon the judicial history of this State and in the higher sphere to which he has been called in the National Councils.

The last of the Harper's Ferry Raid.

The report of the Investigating Committee of the United States Senate, on the Harper's Ferry invasion was submitted to that body, on Friday last, and ordered to be printed, and the Committee discharged. The report itself comprises one hundred and fifty pages exclusive of the testimony taken before the Committee. It presents a full history of John Brown and his movements and those implicated with him in his atrocious doings. The testimony shows that it was the intention of Brown and his adherents to commence a servile war on the borders of Virginia and which they expected to be able to extend throughout the entire South. The Committee make no suggestion for any legislative action to prevent like occurrences in the future. The report is signed by Senators Mason, Davis and Fitch. A minority report from Senators Collamer and Doehle was also submitted. The report is very brief and says there is no evidence of any other persons than those with Brown being accessory to the outbreak; nor any proof that any other had any knowledge of the conspiracy or its purposes. Nor was there any evidence to show a conspiracy to rescue Brown or his associates from prison in Virginia. This will certainly be news to the people of this section of the country. This place was the head-quarters for Brown and his gang for a long time while they were busy arranging their plans for the invasion. Fred Douglas and other prominent Northern Abolitionists visited Brown at this place to help forward the work. And it is a well known fact in this community that Fred Douglas promised to be back here at the time the outbreak took place. Respite was also being hunting up his friends among the fugitives and aiding in their escape. There are persons too in this community that knew something of Brown's plan if they are to be believed. It is as weak as it is false on the part of the majority to say that "none but those with Brown had a knowledge of the conspiracy." In this community the authors of such a statement would be hooted at. It is no less untrue in the minority of the Committee to state that "no conspiracy to rescue Brown and his associates from prison existed." We happen to know here that a number of men from northern counties in this State, bordering on New York, came as far as this place for that purpose, but hearing of the formidable preparations being made for their reception in Virginia they very prudently turned back. It would have rounded more to the credit of the minority of the Committee to have signed the majority report, than to have appended their names to a flimsy tissue of falsehoods put forth for the purpose of screening rebels and murderers in the Black Republican ranks.

Prophetic Verse.

The syllible leaves from which the priestesses of Republicanism are accustomed to chant prophecies, contain the following ominous words: "As I walked out by the light of the moon, So merrily singing this old tune, I came across that same old oon A settin' on a rail, With a splinter in his tail— A settin' on a rail, and sleepin' very sound." This indicates that the unshifty Lincoln will go to his last sleep early in November next, "as soon as he will."

The 14th Section of the Chicago Platform.

Quite a number of the Republican journals are republishing the fourteenth section of the Chicago Platform. The Philadelphia News has denounced it in the severest terms. The Boston Atlas and Bee has also come out against it, and says in regard to the Platform adopted at Chicago: "There are some points in the Chicago platform that deserve mention, and one especially that in this section of the country requires explanation. We refer to the fourteenth section of the platform, which declares that the Republican party is opposed to any State legislation in relation to the naturalization of foreigners. This declaration in the Platform is neither correct, nor just, and we most emphatically repudiate it. In the first place, it is not legitimate in the platform, has no business in it, and was merely interpolated. The question to which it relates is not one of local interest, and it is best to drop the organization of the party of a national party."

For the benefit of our readers we will publish the section above referred to.— "That the Republican party is opposed to any change in our Naturalization laws, or any State legislation by which the rights of citizenship be bestowed on immigrants from foreign birth, who are not free-born citizens of the United States, either by birth or naturalization, both at home or abroad."

Our readers are aware that the legislature of Massachusetts has passed a law that a foreigner who wishes to vote in that State, must wait two years after he is naturalized, making it seven years in all, before he can have a right to vote. The above resolution, however, seems to disapprove of this law, and opposed to any change in the naturalization laws of a State. Hence the growling of the News and Atlas. But, in the name of common sense, how can these very papers support a man who is in duty bound to stand upon the platform as it is? There is no leaving out of any plank: it is the Platform which must be supported, as well as the nominee.

The cloven foot of Know Nothingism, however, can be seen sticking out. If ANDREW G. CURTIS should become Governor of Pennsylvania—which is as far from being real as the man in the moon is from the earth—would he veto a similar law as the one in Massachusetts, if such a law was passed by our Legislature? Never! He is the head and front of the Know Nothing party to this day yet, although some may think that that secret order was defunct. His former acts are proofs which cannot well be controverted. To talk about opposition to the Massachusetts law is all gunnion; it is throwing empty straw. If a poor foreigner happens to get into difficulties there, he is pounced upon by the very men who profess to be friendly toward him. But if a runaway negro goes there he is idolized; white men are hatched up in carriages, and hear him off in carriages. The Atlas sympathizes with the negro, and says:

In Illinois it is impossible for a colored man to live in peace and comfort, no matter how good a citizen he may be, on account of the oppressive laws of that State. In Kansas and Indiana the case is similar, and in Wisconsin and many other States the negro is denied by statute laws the right of suffrage. But in Massachusetts they can vote after being there but one year, and we would advise these colored citizens to leave Illinois and those other western States and go to Massachusetts: there they will not be oppressed. Is there no inconsistency in this? The people—white people—are fully aware of the treachery of the Republican party, and they will give them just such a rebuke at the ballot box as their hypocrisy deserves, their resolutions and platforms notwithstanding.

Baltimore Convention.

The eyes of the Democracy are turned anxiously toward Baltimore, where their National Convention is now in session. Upon the action of that Convention hangs the welfare of the country. If its deliberations are harmonious we shall be victorious. There is a strong determination on the part of the Democratic masses to retrieve the disasters of the past two years. Give them anything like a fair chance and they will give the enemy a splendid thrashing. Let us all make up our mind to pull together, and let our Convention begin the good work by making a unanimous nomination.— There is no use fighting among ourselves when we have political opponents to fight with. Hurra for unanimous nomination and then hurra for the nominee!

Why do the Republicans call Lincoln "Honest" Aho?

Is it to distinguish him from the rest of the party? We merely ask the question.

The Chicago Abolition.

We confess to some surprise that the nomination of LINCOLN should have fallen so perfectly still born among the Republicans. It has been the habit of the opposition to make the greatest show of enthusiasm over the greatest humbug. But the great mass of the opposition must have come to the conclusion that the humbug game is a poor one and not worth pursuing farther; for while it is admitted that the Chicago humbug is the greatest humbug yet attempted, there is a total absence of the usual enthusiasm. The truth is, the heart of the Republican party beat for SEWARD, and when he fell beneath the daggers of such men as CAMEKON and GRIMM, the heart of Republicanism sank with him. By throwing him overboard, the opposition have got themselves in a split rail. In hopes of securing an inferior State which was considered doubtful, the most powerful State in the Union has been thrown away, and the cause of Republicanism has had a complete dumper thrown over it.

With SEWARD their great leader, they might have made a vigorous fight, and if defeated, his name and influence would still have held them together. But with their trusted chief thrust from him high position and an untried leader set over them by scheming politicians against their will, the opposition masses have no heart for the conflict and no hope for a favorable result.

Gen'l Cushing at Charleston.

We hear from every quarter testimony to the impartiality, ability and skill displayed by General Cushing as President of the Charleston Convention. That body honored itself by placing at its head this tried soldier of the great Democratic army, who bears upon his person, the scars of old and recent wounds received in many a fierce conflict with the enemies of his party of the Constitution and of the Union. From his spirit-stirring inaugural, appealing to the patriotism of the Convention to the brief address delivered just before the adjournment to Baltimore, every word and every act of his displayed a consummate knowledge of the duties of his difficult position. If General Cushing had never been known to the public, as a statesman, as an orator, as a jurist, as a diplomatist or as a scholar, he would have made a reputation solely by the dignity, the tact and the rare skill with which he presided over the Convention—so decided favorable were the impressions he made at Charleston, that even the delegates of some of the seceding States in their formal letters taking leave of the Convention embraced the occasion to express their respect and admiration for his character.— We learn that in private and social circles he made an equally favorable impression and received the unbounded hospitalities for which the citizens of Charleston are so well known. We are of the opinion that General Cushing will hereafter be much better appreciated at the South than he has been heretofore, and certainly no Northern Statesman more deserves recognition for his public services and for his private character. It is too much the fashion at the South to undervalue the Democracy of New England, but we do not hesitate to say that a nobler or a more unselfish band of patriots does not exist anywhere in the limits of this Union than within the Democratic party even of ill-riden Massachusetts.

Empty Promises.

Not long since the Republican papers promised us that the so-called "People's Party of Pennsylvania" would stand up for protection to American industry in the Chicago Convention. Well, the Convention is over, and what is the result? They stood up for it with a vengeance, didn't they? Nominated a free trader for Vice President, and passed a tariff resolution, in which the word protection does not occur, and which entirely ignores Pennsylvania interests, while commercial prosperity, which depends upon free trade, is especially designated. A queer way, that, of standing up for protection to American industry!— Yes, but with all this queeriness, it is nothing more than a repetition of all their promises—an empty bubble.

Can't Find 'Em.

The Texas papers are making anxious inquiries as to the "local habitation" of the delegates by which that State was represented at Chicago.— They complain of the tardy movements of the delegates, and express an earnest wish that the delegates will reach home some time before November next, in order that their actions and votes at Chicago may be properly endorsed, "in mass meetings."

The Seceders' Convention.

The seceding delegates from the Democratic National Convention at Charleston met, according to their programme, at Richmond, on the 11th inst., and very wisely concluded to "march up the hill and then march down again." Nothing was expected from them and they have not disappointed the calculations of anybody in respect to their performance. It may be that they considered their time for doing mischief had not arrived, and that, should the nomination at Baltimore more suit their fastidious tastes, they will again rally their scattered forces at Richmond and patch up a nomination that even themselves won't respect. It is all lost for them to talk about "separating the confederacy," and idle for them to suppose that they can present a candidate that will materially effect the vote in any State in the Union.

The Japanese.

New York, June 16. Everything is given up to Japan today, scarcely anything having been thought of since the Japanese Embassy, and their reception at Washington.

Brockway, from Union Square to the Battery, is a mass of human beings, and there are nearly equal crowds in the other streets through which the procession is to pass. The Embassadors will suit to land at the Battery, and the routing by the procession to be through Battery place to Broadway, through Broadway to Grand street, through Grand street to the Bowery, through the Bowery and Fourth avenue to all around Union Square to Broadway, down Broadway to the Metropolitan Hotel.

The military force is the largest and finest ever seen here, the whole force amounting to nearly six thousand men. A police force of one thousand men is employed to accompany the procession and keep the street clear from both sides.

The appearance of Broadway, with its enormous crowd of people, and its hundreds of flags, American, Japanese and those of other nations, is very striking. A host of devices and decorations are exhibited, some of them quite as pretty as those of other cities. The Metropolitan Hotel, where the guests are to be lodged, is profusely adorned within and without, and it is the chief center of attraction for the multitude of people. The scene at the Battery and in the Bay is equally a most beautiful sight. The arrival of the Albatross is announced by volutes from three masts, from the Battery, and from various vessels in the harbor. Every vessel is gaily adorned with flags.

The weather is very hot and there is every appearance of a summer. At 2 P. M.—The Albatross is just coming to the pier, amid the firing of cannon and cheers of the multitude.

Bad accident at Sandusky, Ohio.

SANDUSKY, Ohio, June 14.—The balcony of West's Hotel, which was crowded with people witnessing the tournament of the Swines, fell at 10 o'clock this morning with a terrible crash. None were killed, but the following persons were injured and others quite the contrary. Harry Cline, Ohio, leg broken. His wife was also badly bruised. Mr. Arms and sister, ofiffin. Ohio, badly bruised, about the head and chest; Mr. Tiffin, Ohio, arm broken; Mr. Rice, of Findlay, Ohio, arm broken; Miss Manlin, of Tiffin, Ohio, about the chest; Mr. Black, of Vermilion, Ohio, arm broken; Mr. Conitt, of Bellefontaine, ribs broken; John Bas, of Sandusky, terribly disfigured, and several others were less seriously wounded.

Indignation Meeting at St. Louis.

St. LOUIS, June 23.—An indignation meeting of the Democrats of this city was held last night. Several thousand persons were in attendance and the proceedings were quite spirited. Speeches were made, strongly denouncing the action of Congress in disbanding Mr. Barrett, and resolutions of a similar character were adopted, terming it a tyrannical and unscrupulous exercise of power in the majority, and solemnly repelling the imputation that the election was carried by fraud.

Illinois Democratic Convention.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The Democratic State Convention, held yesterday at Springfield, was largely attended and entirely harmonious. Jas. C. Allen was nominated for Governor; Lewis C. Hunt for Lieutenant Governor; B. C. Campbell for Secretary of State; Bernard Artzenau for Auditor, and Hugh Fisher for Treasurer. The Electors at large are J. L. D. Morrison and W. H. Cushman.

The Yellow Fever at Acapulco, Mexico.

NEW YORK, June 13.—A gentleman who was a passenger in the steamer of the 20th Inst. from San Francisco, says the virulent type of yellow fever was raging at Acapulco, Mexico. Five hundred deaths had taken place in six weeks, including the American Consul and thirty of his countrymen. The inhabitants were desolating the city.

From Brazil.

NEW YORK, June 16. The brig Mary Farrow, from Bahia, Brazil, on May 20th, reports that the shipping was duller at that port, than it has been for ten years. Not an English vessel in there.

The Steamer Great Eastern.

NEW YORK, June 16. It is ascertained on reliable authority, from private advices by the Niagara, that the Steamship Great Eastern will not leave Southampton till the 25th Inst.

An attack of a severe company took a sail on the Ohio, near Louisville, Ky., on Wednesday last, in a wash-tub drawn by four geese. Ten thousand people assembled to see the sight.

The new Conference of the M. E. Church, created at the late General Conference, are Nebraska, Western Iowa, and North Dakota Wisconsin, the following are named: Elders.

The movement of croquet has been commenced in Illinois, on a scale large enough to supply the demand of the whole Valley of the Mississippi.

In Washington, on Friday, last, over 600,000 were employed in the counting and compared to one year in the Pennsylvania.

Dr. A. T. Fisher, the late Governor of Ohio, has been elected to the United States Senate.

THE NEXT PRESIDENT'S WIFE—The second question in this country always is: What sort of a wife do we want? Nothing is more characteristic of American manners and feelings than this fact.

Although, generally—famous as we are for it—will not always carry the day against party, for Fremont, who has a noble and charming wife, could not be President, while Buchanan, who is only an uncle, could. Probably, however, successful matrimony is a fair qualification for the Presidency, although it be not the very highest.

A man who can rule his wife well, or at least be well ruled by her, has made one step towards qualifying himself to govern others. And it is a matter of national credit and interest, how the grasses and hospitals of the White House are disposed. Let the ladies and the voters look to it.

The courtly ways of Mrs. Lincoln is remembered with enthusiasm by all who witnessed it, not to speak of latter days, when one might seem invidious. At present, if beauty is to carry the day, we suppose that Mr. Douglas will have the best of it. His accomplished lady is said to be one of the most elegant women of the land.

DEATH-BED CONFESSION OF MURDER—A man named Henry Harrington, an old resident of Beekman, Dutchess County, N. Y., died last Monday night. Before dying, in the presence of five or six persons who were in the house at the time, he confessed that, eighteen or twenty years ago, he and another man, (both then employed in the Factory Woods, and all traces of the dead were carefully obliterated.

I MUST DO MORE FOR MY MOTHER.—"Is there any vacant place in this bank which I could fill?" was the inquiry of a boy with a glowing cheek he stood before the President. "There is none," was the reply. "Were you told that you might obtain a situation here? Who recommended you?"

"No one recommended me, sir," calmly answered the boy. "The inquiry would be made in a straightforward manner, and honest determination on the countenance of the lad which pleased the man of business, and indeed him to continue the conversation. He said: "You must have friends who could aid you in obtaining a situation. Have you advised with them?"
