

The Spirit will be published every Wednesday...

Advertisements are published for three months...

Printed and published for the proprietor...

GEO. H. SHORR.

War News.

FROM WASHINGTON.

A Reconnoissance at Lewinsville, Virginia.

Cattle and Horses killed—Engagement with the Rebel Regiments...

WAR DEPARTMENT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19, 1861. It has been found expedient to revise the regulations for the Army...

The Lewinsville Reconnoissance—Philadelphia Soldiers Engaged.

A reconnoissance was made by our troops towards Lewinsville, yesterday...

Summed Blockade of the Potomac by the Rebels—The Report Contradicted.

It is currently reported here that the Rebels have succeeded in sinking a vessel at Freestone Point, this morning...

Movement of the Rebels.

It is reported that the enemy's forces on the Potomac have made another important movement...

FROM GEN. BANKS' COMMAND.

Col. Geary has another Skirmish. POINT OF ROCKS, Sept 24. To-day an action took place at this point...

A Flag of Truce—Killing two Birds with One Stone.

Yesterday a flag of truce was sent over by Gen. Johnson to Gen. Bank...

VALLEY SPIRIT.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA.

VOLUME 15.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 2, 1861.

NUMBER 15.

Important Advance of Gen. McClellan.

MUNSON'S HILL CAPTURED.

The Rebel Flag Displayed by the Stars and Stripes. WASHINGTON, Sept 29. During the past week it was frequently reported...

Army Regulations.

At the old edition of the Army Regulations heretofore issued, has become valuable on account of the important changes...

WAR DEPARTMENT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19, 1861. It has been found expedient to revise the regulations for the Army...

The Lewinsville Reconnoissance—Philadelphia Soldiers Engaged.

A reconnoissance was made by our troops towards Lewinsville, yesterday...

Summed Blockade of the Potomac by the Rebels—The Report Contradicted.

It is currently reported here that the Rebels have succeeded in sinking a vessel at Freestone Point, this morning...

Movement of the Rebels.

It is reported that the enemy's forces on the Potomac have made another important movement...

FROM GEN. BANKS' COMMAND.

Col. Geary has another Skirmish. POINT OF ROCKS, Sept 24. To-day an action took place at this point...

A Flag of Truce—Killing two Birds with One Stone.

Yesterday a flag of truce was sent over by Gen. Johnson to Gen. Bank...

THE WAR IN MISSOURI.

The Surrender of Lexington.

The following account of the siege of Lexington is furnished to the St. Louis Republic by Henry Bradburn, one of the Missouri soldiers, who left Lexington on Saturday morning...

From St. Louis—Gen. Curtis in Command.

By orders from Headquarters, General Curtis assumed the command at St. Louis and its vicinity, during the absence of General Fremont...

Further from Lexington.

The Rebels prepared a large number of camp beds and rolled them in advance and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear...

From Kolla.

(Correspondence of the St. Louis Democrat)—Last night Mr. Holland, of Springfield, arrived here, having left there on Friday last...

Fears for Gen. Prentiss.

A special despatch to the Tribune says: General Prentiss has assumed command of the Northern Missouri Department, and started west yesterday...

FROM WESTERN VIRGINIA.

Another Victory. GRANTON, VA., Sept 25. Five hundred of the Fourth Ohio, with one piece of artillery, and the Bingsold Cavalry, 75 in number, under Col. Caldwell...

Departure of Fremont for the Field.

General Fremont and part of his staff left for Jefferson city this afternoon. Reports received here tonight state that Gen. Price has relinquished all his command except Fort Mifflin...

Late and Important.

News from Lexington report that Colonel Greer, of the Home Guards, was killed by a shot in the thigh; also Lieut. Col White of Stiekles' St. Louis Regiment, killed by a musket ball...

McCulloch was within thirty miles of Fort Scott, on the night of the 21st inst. General Lane has issued a proclamation to the officers of Western Missouri...

AFAIRS IN KENTUCKY.

Outrages by the Rebels—40,000 Kentucky Volunteers to be Raised. LOUISVILLE, Sept 25. The Journal of to-morrow will contain a statement that the Confederates are committing outrages on the Southern borders of Kentucky...

FROM CINCINNATI.

Gen. Lane's "Fighting It Through." See McClellan Moving on Fort Scott. LEAVENWORTH, Sept 26. Gen. Lane's command surprised a superior force of Rebels at Papenwauke, Mo., on the 21st, and after a severe engagement routed them, losing 17 killed, and a large number wounded...

Federal Troops Moving into Kentucky.

The Kentucky Legislature. FRANKFORD, Sept. 27. In the House to-day Mr. Anderson, from the Judiciary Committee, reported, among other things, that the Committee do not believe that Congress has transgressed any of its powers in the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus...

FROM CINCINNATI.

Gen. Lane's "Fighting It Through." See McClellan Moving on Fort Scott. LEAVENWORTH, Sept 26. Gen. Lane's command surprised a superior force of Rebels at Papenwauke, Mo., on the 21st, and after a severe engagement routed them, losing 17 killed, and a large number wounded...

Federal Troops Moving into Kentucky.

The Kentucky Legislature. FRANKFORD, Sept. 27. In the House to-day Mr. Anderson, from the Judiciary Committee, reported, among other things, that the Committee do not believe that Congress has transgressed any of its powers in the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus...

FROM CINCINNATI.

Gen. Lane's "Fighting It Through." See McClellan Moving on Fort Scott. LEAVENWORTH, Sept 26. Gen. Lane's command surprised a superior force of Rebels at Papenwauke, Mo., on the 21st, and after a severe engagement routed them, losing 17 killed, and a large number wounded...

Federal Troops Moving into Kentucky.

The Kentucky Legislature. FRANKFORD, Sept. 27. In the House to-day Mr. Anderson, from the Judiciary Committee, reported, among other things, that the Committee do not believe that Congress has transgressed any of its powers in the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus...

FROM CINCINNATI.

Gen. Lane's "Fighting It Through." See McClellan Moving on Fort Scott. LEAVENWORTH, Sept 26. Gen. Lane's command surprised a superior force of Rebels at Papenwauke, Mo., on the 21st, and after a severe engagement routed them, losing 17 killed, and a large number wounded...

ever he thought no one was looking at him, he would drink a glass of brandy...

The young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

As to his silent friends, the other old boys, at the Sir Somebody's Head, he dropped off from them by gradual degrees...

Now comes the moral of the story - for it has a moral, after all. The old man, having lost his old friends...

Can you open me half a dozen more, my dear? inquired Mr. John Douce. 'I'll see what I can do for you, sir,' replied the young lady in blue...

'You couldn't manage to get me a glass of brandy and water, my dear, I suppose?' said Mr. John Douce, when he had finished the oysters...

'I'll see, sir,' said the young lady, and away she ran out of the shop, and down the street, her long auburn tresses shaking in the wind...

So the young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

Domino had made her blush, so of course she did blush and Mr. John Douce was long time drinking the brandy and water...

The next morning, John Douce was rather feverish with the extra brandy and water of the previous night, and partly in the hope of cooling himself with an oyster...

As to his silent friends, the other old boys, at the Sir Somebody's Head, he dropped off from them by gradual degrees...

Now comes the moral of the story - for it has a moral, after all. The old man, having lost his old friends...

Can you open me half a dozen more, my dear? inquired Mr. John Douce. 'I'll see what I can do for you, sir,' replied the young lady in blue...

'You couldn't manage to get me a glass of brandy and water, my dear, I suppose?' said Mr. John Douce, when he had finished the oysters...

'I'll see, sir,' said the young lady, and away she ran out of the shop, and down the street, her long auburn tresses shaking in the wind...

So the young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

ever he thought no one was looking at him, he would drink a glass of brandy...

The young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

As to his silent friends, the other old boys, at the Sir Somebody's Head, he dropped off from them by gradual degrees...

Now comes the moral of the story - for it has a moral, after all. The old man, having lost his old friends...

Can you open me half a dozen more, my dear? inquired Mr. John Douce. 'I'll see what I can do for you, sir,' replied the young lady in blue...

'You couldn't manage to get me a glass of brandy and water, my dear, I suppose?' said Mr. John Douce, when he had finished the oysters...

'I'll see, sir,' said the young lady, and away she ran out of the shop, and down the street, her long auburn tresses shaking in the wind...

So the young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

ever he thought no one was looking at him, he would drink a glass of brandy...

The young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

As to his silent friends, the other old boys, at the Sir Somebody's Head, he dropped off from them by gradual degrees...

Now comes the moral of the story - for it has a moral, after all. The old man, having lost his old friends...

Can you open me half a dozen more, my dear? inquired Mr. John Douce. 'I'll see what I can do for you, sir,' replied the young lady in blue...

'You couldn't manage to get me a glass of brandy and water, my dear, I suppose?' said Mr. John Douce, when he had finished the oysters...

'I'll see, sir,' said the young lady, and away she ran out of the shop, and down the street, her long auburn tresses shaking in the wind...

So the young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

ever he thought no one was looking at him, he would drink a glass of brandy...

The young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

As to his silent friends, the other old boys, at the Sir Somebody's Head, he dropped off from them by gradual degrees...

Now comes the moral of the story - for it has a moral, after all. The old man, having lost his old friends...

Can you open me half a dozen more, my dear? inquired Mr. John Douce. 'I'll see what I can do for you, sir,' replied the young lady in blue...

'You couldn't manage to get me a glass of brandy and water, my dear, I suppose?' said Mr. John Douce, when he had finished the oysters...

'I'll see, sir,' said the young lady, and away she ran out of the shop, and down the street, her long auburn tresses shaking in the wind...

So the young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

ever he thought no one was looking at him, he would drink a glass of brandy...

The young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

As to his silent friends, the other old boys, at the Sir Somebody's Head, he dropped off from them by gradual degrees...

Now comes the moral of the story - for it has a moral, after all. The old man, having lost his old friends...

Can you open me half a dozen more, my dear? inquired Mr. John Douce. 'I'll see what I can do for you, sir,' replied the young lady in blue...

'You couldn't manage to get me a glass of brandy and water, my dear, I suppose?' said Mr. John Douce, when he had finished the oysters...

'I'll see, sir,' said the young lady, and away she ran out of the shop, and down the street, her long auburn tresses shaking in the wind...

So the young lady sat down with Mr. John Douce in a little red box with a green curtain, and took a small sip of the brandy and water...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

At this time, when the Government is engaged in a struggle for its very life, party organizations should be abandoned...

Union upon such terms would be in no way...

Valley Spirit.

CHAMBERSBURG, OCT. 2, 1861.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

- President Judge, WILSON REILLY, of Franklin Co. Associate Judge, AUGUSTUS DUNCAN, of Chambersburg. Legislators, CHRISTIAN D. LESHER, of Albion; HENRY S. WILBERT, of Fulton Co. Treasurer, SAMUEL FISHER, of Albion. Commissioner, JOSEPH M. DOYLE, of Fairbairn. Directors of the Poor, JOHN CHASE, of St. Thomas. Auditors, JOHN GILLMAN, JR., of Letchersburg; GEORGE W. HARRIS, of Chambersburg. Clerks, W. H. BART, M. D., of Chambersburg.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEES.

- BY HAMPSHIRE, Chambersburg: G. W. FLEWELL, Chairman; J. M. DUNN, Secretary; G. W. FLEWELL, Treasurer; G. W. FLEWELL, Clerk. BY WASHINGTON, Chambersburg: J. W. WESTER, Chairman; W. D. MCKENNEY, Secretary; PETER STANLEY, Treasurer; G. W. M. VANCE, Chairman; J. J. SKINNER, Secretary; J. J. SKINNER, Treasurer; J. J. SKINNER, Clerk. BY FRANKLIN, Chambersburg: J. W. WESTER, Chairman; W. D. MCKENNEY, Secretary; PETER STANLEY, Treasurer; G. W. M. VANCE, Chairman; J. J. SKINNER, Secretary; J. J. SKINNER, Treasurer; J. J. SKINNER, Clerk. BY ALBION, Chambersburg: J. W. WESTER, Chairman; W. D. MCKENNEY, Secretary; PETER STANLEY, Treasurer; G. W. M. VANCE, Chairman; J. J. SKINNER, Secretary; J. J. SKINNER, Treasurer; J. J. SKINNER, Clerk. BY FULTON, Chambersburg: J. W. WESTER, Chairman; W. D. MCKENNEY, Secretary; PETER STANLEY, Treasurer; G. W. M. VANCE, Chairman; J. J. SKINNER, Secretary; J. J. SKINNER, Treasurer; J. J. SKINNER, Clerk. BY HANCOCK, Chambersburg: J. W. WESTER, Chairman; W. D. MCKENNEY, Secretary; PETER STANLEY, Treasurer; G. W. M. VANCE, Chairman; J. J. SKINNER, Secretary; J. J. SKINNER, Treasurer; J. J. SKINNER, Clerk. BY MORGAN, Chambersburg: J. W. WESTER, Chairman; W. D. MCKENNEY, Secretary; PETER STANLEY, Treasurer; G. W. M. VANCE, Chairman; J. J. SKINNER, Secretary; J. J. SKINNER, Treasurer; J. J. SKINNER, Clerk. BY WASHINGTON, Chambersburg: J. W. WESTER, Chairman; W. D. MCKENNEY, Secretary; PETER STANLEY, Treasurer; G. W. M. VANCE, Chairman; J. J. SKINNER, Secretary; J. J. SKINNER, Treasurer; J. J. SKINNER, Clerk. BY WASHINGTON, Chambersburg: J. W. WESTER, Chairman; W. D. MCKENNEY, Secretary; PETER STANLEY, Treasurer; G. W. M. VANCE, Chairman; J. J. SKINNER, Secretary; J. J. SKINNER, Treasurer; J. J. SKINNER, Clerk.

Are You Ready?

In a few days the time for holding the annual election will be here. It comes this year on Tuesday, Oct. 2d. Remember the day and be prepared to do your duty to your country and your party. Matters of great importance for the present and the future will be decided on that day. The acts and deeds of the State Administration will be endorsed or condemned. The flag of the good old Union-loving Democratic party will be thrown to the breeze in triumph; or will continue to trail in the dust. If it trails, sectionalism, Abolitionism and fanaticism will triumph.

Fellow Democrats, the issue is upon you. It must be met, and should be met in a spirit of exalted patriotism and devotion to country; whilst you have given men and money without stint, to put down and rebuke the sectionalism of the South, rise in the majority of your power and rebuke at the ballot box the sectionalism of the North.

The issue is forced upon you, to decide in favor of Democracy or of Sectional Black Republicanism and Abolitionism.

The cry of "no party," is one of the most dimmy devices of the enemy, to gull the people, whilst this and other similar schemes are continually prated around by the Republican party; they are at this very time more intensely and uncompromisingly partisan than they have ever been in the past. And in the very face of these unblushing protestations of "Union" and "no party," they have offered and are now most industriously laboring and planning by all means in their power for the election of a ticket composed entirely of partisans of the strictest sect, whose greatest recommendation is their devotion to Republicanism—their opposition to Democratic men and measures.

Is there anything in the nominees of that party to induce Democrats to support them? Is there anything in their principles or the acts of their State or National Administration, that entitles them to a preference over Democratic candidates?

We most unhesitatingly say there is not. We present to you a ticket of which any party should be proud. Men well known to you, and we believe very favorably known. Men eminently qualified for the positions for which they are offered. Men of ability and character, and the foulest enemy dare not dispute it. Men whose lives have been devoted to the good of the country and for the supremacy of the laws—even, in whose hands the interests of the people will be safe.

Turn out on Election Day—Tuesday the Eighth of October and vote the Democratic ticket.

The Judgeship of our District.

In times like these, it is eminently proper that the chief concern of every citizen should be about the integrity of the government, and the safety of the Republic. No one ought to be willing to see this all absorbing interest allowed the title of a bait. There is danger, however, that even this sacred feeling of patriotism may have its abuses, and may lead to evil consequences. It is not unusual, now a days, to meet our best citizens, and to hear them express themselves so solicitous in regard to our national existence as to be entirely careless about the issues of the approaching election, and the fate of the respective candidates before the people. Such indifference is wrong, and may indeed be criminal. There is a wide difference between politics and patriotism. The first is defined to be that part of ethics, which consists in the regulation and government of a state, for the preservation of its safety, peace and prosperity. The latter used to be those who were devoted to the cause of government and the art of governing. But now they are known simply as those who have very little heads, but very big hearts, no skill in government, but an amazing dexterity in getting out the revenues of the State. Whilst in times like these, politicians may be very properly considered by the people, as a class, to be extremely hazardous, still they are, after the approaching election, to pass away without leaving behind them a single proper person should be elevated to office.

A pure and able Judiciary is the chief cornerstone of all good government, and its highest safety. On this point, the wisdom of October, the voters of the State, the Judicial District, will be called upon to elect a Judge to preside over the Court for ten years. Every one knows the candidates to be Wilson Reilly and James Nill, both residents of Chambersburg.

It is not our purpose to draw invidious distinctions between these two great names. We take it for granted, however, that each one of them must be prepared to answer affirmatively the following three questions: 1st. Can you expect to have the suffrage of any intelligent voter in the District? 2d. Are you an honest man? And lastly, have you legal capacity enough to make a competent Judge? It will thus be observed, that the exigencies of the times have a right to the old Judicial Official standard of honesty and capacity, the additional quality of patriotism. Does Wilson Reilly come up to the standard of the times? Let us see. Is he simply a partisan, or is he indeed a patriot? In the long course of uninterrupted popularity, through which our country has been passing, our ideas of patriotism have become a little undisciplined and hazy. In the days of the Revolution, a patriot was he who loved his country, and who ably supported and defended it, and its interests. Between that time, and the present, there have lived many patriots, but unfortunately many of them loved their country second themselves first. Again, we are in the midst of a stupendous and wicked Revolution, and it is high time that we should get back to the old style of patriotism. Does Mr. Reilly fall within the true or pseudo class? We remember to have heard him declare in a public speech, and frequently in private conversation, at the very earliest period of our national troubles, that the government must be sustained at all hazards. He thus fulfilled one part of the definition of a patriot, from the very first. He loved his country better than his party. But in doing this he still did not quite come up to the Revolutionary idea of patriotism. That required the patriot not only to love his country, but also zealously to defend and support it, and its interests. Did Mr. Reilly fall short in his respect? He did not stop with patriotic emotions, but he acted out the feelings that were within him. Who does not know that he shouldered his musket, tendered his services to the government, and endured the privations of a soldiers life for three months, until a shattered constitution and enfeebled health warned him that he must desist if he would live. With such a record can any one question either his patriotism or his devotion to the Union?

2d. Is Wilson Reilly an honest man? Poverty is usually the badge of honesty. Dishonesty generally brings forth visible fruits, in the shape of Bank and Railroad Stocks, palatial residences, money at interest and broad acres. If Mr. Reilly has anything of this sort, we are ignorant of the fact. There is one thing we do know, however, that when Mr. Reilly was in Congress, he was a member of the Committee on Patents. That a gentleman who had obtained a Patent for the exclusive manufacture and sale of a useful invention, made application to the committee for a renewal of his patent, for an additional period of seven years. He would have given Mr. Reilly a large sum of money for his vote in favor of a renewal. This was a question, which involved no sacrifice of political standing or principle. It was simply a question of domestic economy, as to whether the patentee, having already realized a princely fortune out of his invention should for a longer time, be suffered to monopolize its manufacture and sale. Mr. Reilly believing that after a man has made a fortune out of his brains, that the public should no longer be deprived of the benefits of useful inventions, voted against a renewal of the patent and thus sacrificed the chances of making a handsome fortune. If he had not been honest, why did he not pocket the money? Why would he have done the wiser or worse of his being so? There is another thing which every body knows, and that is, that Mr. Reilly retired from Congress a poor man. This is the best commentary that can be made upon the Legislature of our day. In addition to all this, a long and unequal life of integrity, challenges the world to test upon him the limit of dishonesty.

3d. Has he the capability to make a competent Judge? Nature has gifted him with a clear, logical and analytical mind. He argues to an untiring conclusion with consummate skill and logical precision and accuracy. The very best stamp of legal mind for a Judge. His industry for many years of his early professional life, is a matter of tradition among the members of the Bar. Almost a quart of a century passed in an extensive and varied practice, has garnered up a rich store of knowledge, a experience which now places him in the front rank of the Lawyers of our State. No one who has heard him in our courts can question his competency.

If all these things be true, why should party lines be closely drawn against Mr. Reilly? Why should any one who would otherwise vote for him refuse to do so, merely because he happened to be the nominee of the Democratic instead of the Union Conference? We should depend on the day when the judicial ermine shall be dragged through the mire of Politics. Let the people see to it that candidates for the Judgeship shall not become party political gladiators.

Up and at Them!

Democrats be about on Tuesday next and show the one who would break up your party that it is not dead or dying. The principles of your party are deeply imbedded in the hearts of the people—were it otherwise counsels followed we would not now have a civil war in the country. The people know this—feel this—and will vote with the only party that can restore an honorable and lasting peace to the whole country. Let the people begin now and take the first step towards bringing back the Union, and allaying civil strife in the land, by voting with the Democratic party. Its principles are those of truth and justice and they must triumph. The man who does not give this party his hearty support in this time of trial and need, must never expect to nestle in its bosom or be honored in its ranks again. Now is the time to act, to work. Depend on no man to do your work. Let every man be on the ground early, see that the whole vote is out, and that every man votes their right ticket.

Give one day honestly and faithfully to your party and your country, and you will be successful.

Turn Out.

Democrats turn out to the election, don't make any bargains to stay at home, don't let anything that can be avoided prevent you from voting and seeing that your neighbors ALL vote. Now is the time to secure a Democratic triumph. Your enemies will leave nothing undone. Be not deceived or discouraged, victory is certain if you do your duty.

A Masked Battery.

In order to gull Democrats into voting for him, NILL says he is as good a Democrat now as he ever was! The Republicans, of course, believe him and are trying to bestow on him a ten year office as a reward for his fidelity to the Democratic party! Vive le Bonaparte!

"Not PM for a Jingo."

It should be all sufficient for the voters of this Judicial District to remember that the bogus Union candidate for Judge was appointed by the Governor of the State, a few years ago, to preside over the Courts of Chester and Delaware counties, and that he held one session in which his incompetency was so conclusively established that the Bars of the respective courts in the district, with one accord, petitioned for his removal. Strong remonstrances were sent into the Senate against the confirmation of his appointment, and the Senate Committee reported that after examining the evidence had before them against Mr. NILL they were entirely satisfied that it furnished ample and just grounds for his removal, and the Senate accordingly refused to confirm the appointment. This action of the Senate was considered then, and still considered, unjust, in a great degree, towards Mr. NILL, although there could not be found a Republican paper in the whole State that did not pronounce it a righteous proceeding, on the part of the Senate, and say that Mr. NILL was a "Not PM for a Jingo." In this disgraceful attempt to be headed upon Mr. NILL, none seemed to glory more than the Republican party of Franklin County, and none maintained the responsibility regarding Mr. NILL's propriety for a Judge, with more tenacity than did this same party until a few weeks ago, when, for reasons best known to itself, it essayed to list upon this commodity the man it pronounced "Not PM for a Judge!" This may seem a very right and proper to the Republican party, and they may, perhaps, work themselves up to imagine that they can vote for their old political enemy with a good grace, but it certainly is not very complimentary to their old "Not PM for a Judge!"

It is not our purpose to draw invidious distinctions between these two great names. We take it for granted, however, that each one of them must be prepared to answer affirmatively the following three questions: 1st. Can you expect to have the suffrage of any intelligent voter in the District? 2d. Are you an honest man? And lastly, have you legal capacity enough to make a competent Judge? It will thus be observed, that the exigencies of the times have a right to the old Judicial Official standard of honesty and capacity, the additional quality of patriotism. Does Wilson Reilly come up to the standard of the times? Let us see. Is he simply a partisan, or is he indeed a patriot? In the long course of uninterrupted popularity, through which our country has been passing, our ideas of patriotism have become a little undisciplined and hazy. In the days of the Revolution, a patriot was he who loved his country, and who ably supported and defended it, and its interests. Between that time, and the present, there have lived many patriots, but unfortunately many of them loved their country second themselves first. Again, we are in the midst of a stupendous and wicked Revolution, and it is high time that we should get back to the old style of patriotism. Does Mr. Reilly fall within the true or pseudo class? We remember to have heard him declare in a public speech, and frequently in private conversation, at the very earliest period of our national troubles, that the government must be sustained at all hazards. He thus fulfilled one part of the definition of a patriot, from the very first. He loved his country better than his party. But in doing this he still did not quite come up to the Revolutionary idea of patriotism. That required the patriot not only to love his country, but also zealously to defend and support it, and its interests. Did Mr. Reilly fall short in his respect? He did not stop with patriotic emotions, but he acted out the feelings that were within him. Who does not know that he shouldered his musket, tendered his services to the government, and endured the privations of a soldiers life for three months, until a shattered constitution and enfeebled health warned him that he must desist if he would live. With such a record can any one question either his patriotism or his devotion to the Union?

Stand by Your Party.

Democrats recollect that these are the words of the old Champion of Democracy—ANDREW JACKSON—Stand firmly by your party in this severest trial it has ever undergone. Do your duty manfully by your party and support its ticket—the WHOLE TICKET. Let no Democrat hereafter claim to belong to that glorious old party, under whose management the country has always prospered, who will not support its ticket. They that are not for us are against us—they who cannot freely and fearlessly support the Democratic ticket now in the field in preference to the one opposing it, should never assume to call themselves Democrats, but should at once and forever sink into the embraces of Abolitionism.

Look Out for Them.

Democrats you will be approached by men on Election Day who will tell you that it does not make any difference which you vote for Reil y or Nill—that they are both good Democrats. Nill is no more a Democrat and let no one be deceived into voting for him as such. He has forced himself upon the Republican party for an office and is trying to beat the regularly nominated Democratic Ticket. Teach him not!

Missouri.

The issue at Bull Run, though deplorable enough, was nothing in comparison with the disasters that have overtaken the Union cause in Missouri, through the criminal mismanagement of General John C. Fremont. The work so gloriously begun by General Lyon has all been spoiled by the petty politician whom political favoritism set up over the hero of St. Louis and Springfield. Before the advent of Fremont and the foreign court established by him at St. Louis, General Lyon, with a mere handful of men, had nearly cleared the whole State of Missouri of the rebels in arms against the government. But Fremont, with sixty thousand men at his command, has let Gen. Price and his Arkansas allies take various strong places in the very heart of the State. The gallant Mulligan and his heroic little band at Lexington were left to die of thirst or surrender the important post and the immense treasures they held to a force five or ten times their number, while Gen. Fremont remained shut up so close in his snug quarters at St. Louis, that even the Union Governor of Missouri could not get a glance of him after waiting three days at his royal door.

A little more banging by Fremont will settle the Union host in the whole Southwest. The rebel cause has made immense and alarming progress there during the last three or four weeks. While Fremont is chosen fooling away his time making nice little arrangements for himself with bael and mule contractors, at St. Louis, Price, Jackson and McCullough, with their rebel followers, have overrun the best part of the State and now bid fair to drive the Union men all east of the Mississippi. The President would do an act highly creditable to himself and satisfactory to the Union men of the whole country, (among whom we do not include the abolitionists,) if he would knock Fremont out of the army. It is no thing but a Santa Carolina renegade anyhow. He sold his Southern birthright for an abolition nomination for the Presidency, and he would sell the Union cause for half enough of money to pay the debt on Mariposa.

Judicial.

On Saturday evening last, Ross Fawcett, Esq., a highly respectable gentleman and prominent Republican, from Somerset county, arrived in this place and announced himself as an independent candidate for the position of President Judge of this District. This announcement produced a dreadful state of affairs among the bogus "Union savers." They seemed to forget for the nonce that the Union was in danger and their whole attention was absorbed in saving a Judge to suit their convenience on the Bench. NILL was awfully frightened and at once decided—backed down—threw up—left the track—and was willing that the whole county should vote for REILLY as the best and most deserving man in the district. McLELLAN and McCURE, who are not troubled with the old-womanish fears that are forever agitating the nerves of NILL, at once took Mr. FORWARD in hands a la Reilly and by a peculiar process well understood by them, tamed him down as gentle as a sucking dove. Somerset surrendered and showed the white-feather for the first time in its existence.

Who does not remember when Judge KIMMEL visited this place, under similar circumstances, and a crowd was ready to tear him to pieces, he coolly told them—"Gentlemen you cannot intimidate me—the man who would be backed down by the dogs would not eat him." Somerset has backed down and as a consequence Dog's rations must be at a discount in that section according to the plucky logic of KIMMEL. Alas for the degeneracy of the "Frosty Sons of Thunder" who are while dwell among—

"Somerset's mottoes of now when you was bet Jerry and I was bet Joe."

Judicial Conference.

We copy the following from the Belford Inquirer, the organ of the Republican party of Belford county which pretty clearly indicates the course the Republicans intend to pursue in reference to the Judge question in that county.

We take the proceedings of the Judicial Conference which assembled at the Juniata Crossings, on Tuesday last in another column. Somerset county was not represented. Hon. James Nill of Franklin county was nominated on first ballot. The Conference were instructed by county Conventions to vote for Hon. Alex. King. Notwithstanding their instructions, Messrs. Rowland Austin and George Wilds, two of the Fulton Conference, voted along with those from Franklin, and nominated Mr. Nill on first ballot. Could anything be more base? If these men had acted honestly Mr. King would have received 22 votes on first ballot and have been nominated. A President Judge ought to be nominated and elected free from any charge of treachery on the part of his constituents. We regret that this is not so in this case.

The two candidates now for President Judge, are Democrat, and are both Union men. Hon. Wilson Reilly, a distinguished lawyer for his county, and was elected Captain of his company, and has done much good in his speeches in favor of the cause of the Union. He is well qualified for this important office. Mr. Nill is also a strong and influential Union man, and has all the qualifications necessary to make a good Judge. They stand before the people of Belford county on nearly equal footing as to claims and qualifications, and we are not yet decided whether we will support either of the gentlemen, or some other for this responsible position.

Be Active—Be Watchful.

Let no Democrat be deceived into voting for NILL—they must recollect that he is running against the regular nominee of the Democratic party. If a Democrat votes for NILL he is helping to break down his own party. We say vote for a Republican any day sooner than a renegade who will forsake his party for the sake of an office. The Republica is understand very well that NILL has come among them on an office-seeking expedition and he will meet with but little favor at their hands. Why should any Democrat vote for him when he will intimate that you cannot be a Union man and liking to the Democratic party—that you must join with the Republicans to show your devotion for the Union? Remember this Democrats and be watchful that no ticket with the name of NILL upon it goes into the ballot box in your district.

Sure Enough.

Notwithstanding the skillful manner in which the lash is applied to whipping n all to vote the mongrel ticket, an independent Republican who does his own thinking as well as his own voting, made this remark the other day—"what in thunder has John Nitterhouse ever done for the Republican party that they should vote for him for an office? If the Republican party can't furnish better material than Nill and Nitterhouse I shant vote on Election day that's so!" Sensible Republican that!

New Military Map.

We have received from the publisher, JAMES T. LOYD, of 164 Broadway, N. Y., a copy of his New Military Map and Gazetteer of the Southern States. It is of very large size, neatly gotten up, and is furnished at 50 cents cents colored by States; or 60 cents colored by counties. It is very valuable in these times and well worth the price. It will be sent on receipt of the price, to any address, and agents are wanted for its circulation.

How to Vote.

Election officers should bear in mind that in depositing the ballots in the boxes, that portion of the ticket for President Judge is required to be put in a separate box from the balance of the ticket.

Have Your Tickets Ready.

See that tickets are cut and on the ground early, at every election district, let every man make up his mind to take a day. Be on the ground early and stay all day. See that every man entitled gets a vote, and that no illegal votes are polled. Do nothing wrong and submit to nothing wrong.

BOOTS & SHOES.

GEORGE LYNNER... Boots and shoes advertisement.

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS.

Spring and summer goods advertisement.

DRESSING EMPORIUM.

Dressing emporium advertisement.

1860. NEW STORE.

New store advertisement.

PREPARED FOR WINTER.

Prepared for winter advertisement.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Miscellaneous advertisement.

FANCY FURS, FANCY FURS.

Fancy furs advertisement.

ARCH STREET CARPET WARE.

Arch street carpet ware advertisement.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION, PHILADELPHIA.

Howard association advertisement.

NOTICE TO COAL CONSUMERS.

Notice to coal consumers advertisement.

FLAGS!

Flags advertisement.

EDUCATIONAL.

Educational advertisement.

TEACHERS.

Teachers advertisement.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

Board of trustees advertisement.

Advertisement for a building or property.

Watches & Jewelry.

Watches and jewelry advertisement.

Watches, Jewelry and Silver.

Watches, jewelry and silver advertisement.

SADDLERY, & C.

Saddlery advertisement.

Wholesale and Retail.

Wholesale and retail advertisement.

Hardware.

Hardware advertisement.

Building Hardware.

Building hardware advertisement.

Judge Tools.

Judge tools advertisement.

Hats & Caps.

Hats and caps advertisement.

Cabinet Ware.

Cabinet ware advertisement.

House Painting.

House painting advertisement.

Blue Soap.

Blue soap advertisement.

Funeral Invitations.

Funeral invitations advertisement.

For all Descriptions of Job Printing.

Job printing advertisement.

For Heat Printing.

Heat printing advertisement.

Sale Bills and Posters.

Sale bills and posters advertisement.

Blank, Blank, Blank!

Blank advertisement.

READY-MADE CLOTHING.

Ready-made clothing advertisement.

Wool and Winter Ready.

Wool and winter ready advertisement.

Musical.

Musical advertisement.

James Bros.

James Bros. advertisement.

Books & C.

Books and c. advertisement.

Book Binery.

Book binery advertisement.

Book Binery.

Book binery advertisement.

Hardware.

Hardware advertisement.

Building Hardware.

Building hardware advertisement.

Judge Tools.

Judge tools advertisement.

Hats & Caps.

Hats and caps advertisement.

Cabinet Ware.

Cabinet ware advertisement.

House Painting.

House painting advertisement.

Blue Soap.

Blue soap advertisement.

Funeral Invitations.

Funeral invitations advertisement.

For all Descriptions of Job Printing.

Job printing advertisement.

For Heat Printing.

Heat printing advertisement.

Sale Bills and Posters.

Sale bills and posters advertisement.

Blank, Blank, Blank!

Blank advertisement.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

Ayer's cathartic pills advertisement.

RAILROAD COMPANIES.

Railroad companies advertisement.

Change of Schedule.

Change of schedule advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

Philadelphia and Reading.

Philadelphia and reading advertisement.

BORELLANOUS.

Borellanous advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

COMMISSION HOUSES.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

Commission Houses.

Commission houses advertisement.

