last, was never deserved by those brave men. We venture to say that many who were foremost in the flight when retreat became inevitable, will be first over the enemy's works when McClrl gives the order that Manassas be taken.

There was no more sense or instice in the imputations cast upon Northern courage by the Southern newspapers after the battle of Bull Run, than there is in the Transcript's sneers at the bravery of the people of the South. Whoever claims that bravery is the exclusive product of one section of this country, and that cowardice is the exclusive product of the other, only gives evidence of his own ignorance gives evidence of his own ignorance and malignity. For our part, we look for further displays of Northern cour-age and Southern courage, and that very scon. We trust Northern cour-are may prevail, and that with the fall of Manassas may come submission. of Manassas may come submission to the Constitution and a restoration of Treason and Loyalty.

That brilliant legal and political luminary, the Transcript, says treason is "the lowest of crimes." If the editor will search his law books, he will probably learn that treason is one of the highest of srimes. Our neighbor highest of crimes. Our neighbor ently don't know much about son. If he were called upon to define it, he would probably say.

Oh! No, never mention it! It would never do to mention it: It would never do to charge a Black Republican Abolition-ist with "disloyalty," but the Valley Spirit is fair game for every whelp to snarl at. How exceedingly anxious the Tines is to screen Republicans, and condemn Democrats, but in this it is only carrying out the dictation of its master FORNEY, who has recommended is only carrying out the dictation of its master Foxary, who has recommended that "immediate steps be taken for the purpose of consolidating such a pertry of at the next election as will put down the secession sympathiers forever."—

Here is the convincing sample of its treachery. We give an extract from the Valley Sprint which the Times pronounces "disloyal," and an extract from a speech of TRIDDERS STRUMS, delivered in Congress a few weeks ago, whom the Times will "mot occase of disloyalty." We ask Democratis to compare them and then asy if we are he statusets without another work of the transfer of the structure of the same any honesty in the Times.

Our neighbor should not have gone off this way in a peaceful and loyal community. As a patriot be should not have wasted so much valuable explosive material. If he had gone down to Columbus on one of Uncle dows to Columbus on one of Uncles Sam's gunboats and got himself thrown from a mortar into Bishop Poux's stronghold and there exploded, he would have done his country a great service and repeal all the glory of the evacuation which would have followed immediately. He might have got JESSE D. BRIGHT to give him a letter to Companie Economy. to Commodore Foots, introducing him as a gentleman who wished to exhibit an improved bombshell to the rebels in a way that would convince them of its terribly explosive qualities.

a Truth well Spoken.

The other day when the resolution for the admission of Mr. STARKE of for the admission of Mr. STARKE of Oregon was up for discussion in the U. S. Senate, that arch-demagogue SUMMER attempted to lead on his Jacobia club against Mr. STARKE and deprive the people of Oregon of their just representation in the Senate, but was taken down in the following handsome style by the Hon GARRET DAVIS, Union Senator from Kentucky:—

Union Senator from Kentucky:—

So say we, and we will go a step further and say, that we believe Mr. Summer to be as disloyal at heart an SUMMER to be as disloyal at heart as JUNP. But, thank Uod, a better day seems to be dawning upon us, the reign of terror and fanaticism is rapidly drawing to a close—reason is beginning to resume her sway, sensible and intelligent Republicans now look at things more calmly and that kind of work is left almost entirely in the hands of a few dig boys who reached their maturity at
