mat feel, if he has any adequate idea of a Divine Providence, that the result must be attributed to the "good hand of our God upon us."

In sacred history there is recorded a magnificent thanksgiving which we may properly in our measure imitate. If the hops thereby begotten of the hops thereby begotten of the neltimate success of the national same, we cordially add our invitation to our readers to join in the proper and heighty observance of the day In every way it is eminently proper for a professedly christian people to give expression to its gratitude at such a time as this, and to supplicate the Almighty Disposer of events to continue to grant success to our arms and wisdom to our coussels, that right and justice, and law and order, and finally peace may be restored to sur whole land. It is said that the darkest hour comes before the dawn, and it often occurs in human experience that the hour of struggle and tribulation is the harbinger of the hour of deliverance sand joy. We think it has rarely occurred in the short space of three weeks. Had Gen. Lee's invasion of the North been successful and the Army of the Potomace best driver and day of genuine, rejoicing gratitude?

Manufern Providence, that the result must be attributed to the "good hand of our God upon us."

In sacred history there is recorded to a magnificent thanksgiving which we may properly in our measure imitate. The health of the Red Sea. The person of the banks of the Red Sea. The present in the sake static reason of the Sea. The present in the sea returned in its power, and the paraming host floundered and stragel and perished in its waters. In the sace returned in its power, and the paraming host floundered and strage and perished in its waters. In the sace returned in its power, and the paraming host floundered and strage and perished in its waters. In the finest example of extatio rhand and probably the said that the day the said that the darkest hour coffeely said the said that the darkest hour content in the sace returned in its power, think it has rarely occurred in the history of any people that so many and so great dangers have been averted and so many and so great successes achieved in the short space of three weeks. Had Gem. Lee's invasion of the North been seasonaful and the Army of the Potomae been driven in defeat From the heights of Gettysburg, the result must have been unspeakably diseastrous to the country. Comverey hill may be said to be truly the Thormopylus of the Republic.—Had Grant been finally driven from Vicksburg sand that point and Port Hudson been held by the Robellion, it is not easy to see hew the military power of the Confederacy could have been broken. It is not to be denied that in the later days of Januand the narty days of Januand the hearty days of Januand the nation beat heavy with apprehension, and of the commendations the milks. early days of July the heart of the ination heat heavy with apprehension, a pall of gloom overhang the public mind, and every eye was strained wintfully to catch the lense of the stong fortune of war. "And yet in the about space of a few days all these stouds were dispersed, the hopes of the mation bounded lightly from the depths of despondency, and the "winter of our discontent" was changed into glorious numbers. Is it not emitted to the part of the content." tor of our discontent" was changed into glorious spanner. Ls it not eminently fitting that the united and exultant voice of thankagiving from a loyful people should, go up to the throne of the Divine Majesty, many-voiced and free, like the "manumerable laughter of the sea!"

We especially in the thrond of the Divine Majorty, many voiced and fries like the "mammerable laughter of the sea?"

We expecisily, in this unley have urgent and abundant reasons for them keylving for the speedy and we hope permanent deliverance vonches and abundant reasons for the Spirit it has assumed to defy the property of the speedy and we have been been been been and the final report of the debates, and the final report of the debates, which stood undisputed until the starting doctrines enunciated by Judge successed, the presence of the services of th voterans, and he theredgill organiza-tion and discipline, could not but feel that it was a midst formidable power, and that if its course was not speedily arrested it must do us incalculable harm. That wast host surged and dashed in wild and desperate fary around the heights of Gettysburg only to drug back its decimated, and dispirited ranks to the point from whence it started a decimate of the point of around the heights of Gettysburg cally to drag back its decimated and displitted ranks to the point from whence it started a short inouth before. And we who for but three weeks left the hand of the spoiler upon us, with such disastrous results, have great reason to be thankful that the scourge has been so speedily removed. The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoil; my lust shall be satisfied upon them; I will draw my sword, my hand shall destroy them." They did indeed, for a season, "divide the spoil," but in humble schnowledgement of the Divine Providence we may say "Thy right hand, O Lord, hath dashed in pieces the enemy." Any one who has comprehended the full details of the battle of Gettysburg,—the singular strength of the position taken by Gen. Meade, as if constructed by the great hand of nature for some special purpose,—the fact that he was enabled to gain this position just in the nicke of time,—the fact that he had not advanced beyond this position with more than a small part of his army,—and various other matters of detail pertaining to the conflict—must feel, if he has any adequate idea of a Divine Providence, that the result must be attributed to the "good hand of our God upon us."

As to the positive duties of the day we cannot express them better than in the language of our Chief Magistrate—namely to "invoke the Holy Spirit to subdue the anger which has produced and so long sustained a needless and cruel rebellion; to change the hearts of the insurgents; to guide the counsels of the Government with wisdom adequate to so great an ennergency, and to visit with tender care and consolation throughout the length and breadth of our land, all those who, through the vicinsitudes of marches, voyages, battles and siegos, have been brought to suffer in mind, body, or estate; and finally to lead the whole nation through the paths of repentance and submission to the Divine will, back to the perfect enjoyment of union and fraternal peace." As to the positive duties of the day his views as there expressed take thevery strongest grounds in favor of the

A Brautiful Engrating.—Rev. I. J. Stills, well known to meet of our readers, as a gentleman who resolved most cessential service to the Union cause when before the battle of Antietam, and who suffered most asplustly therefor, is the only suthorisad agent in this and adjoining constites for a most exquisite Engraving entitled "Christ Blessing Little Children." It is from a painting by Sir Charles Kastlake, engraved on steel in meazotint by Sarton, 18 by 21 inches inside of the frama. It illustrates the Incident recorded by the several Evanguists, of the bringing of children to Christ for the benediction. We bespeak for Mr. Stine the gractors patronage of the public.
