TERMS—$2 per annum in advance, or $2.10 if not paid within the year. All subscription orders must be sent to the publishers, and no paper will be sent out of the State unless paid for in advance.

JOHN K. SHRYVE is authorized to receive subscriptions and contracts for advertisements for the Repository in the Eastern cities.

SINGLE COPIES OF THE REPOSITORY can be had at the counter, with or without wrappers. Price five cents. Persons ordering single copies to be mailed must enclose a two cent postage stamp.

We give on the second page of to-day's paper the Bounty Bill recently passed by the legislature. It is now a law, and the people of the various districts can arrange their bounty subscriptions under its provisions without difficulty.

GEN. McCLELLAN'S Official Report, voluminous as it is, omits quite a number of his despatches to the President and Secretary of War. The entire correspondence has now been sent to Congress, and we shall at last have the whole history of General McClellan's campaigns.

LIEUT. GEN. GRANT left Baltimore for Fort Monroe on Friday last to confer with Gen. Butler. The fact that Burnside is to sail from Annapolis with some 50,000 men, and that Gen. Smith, one of Gen. Grant's most trusted officers, is ordered to duty on the Peninsula, together with Gen. Grant's visit there, point pretty conclusively to important and immediate operations in that quarter.

MARYLAND votes to-day to determine whether a Convention shall be called to eradicate Slavery forever from its soil, and also to elect Delegates. We cannot doubt that the issue will be a decisive verdict in behalf of Freedom.

COL. OULD, the rebel commissioner of exchange, came to visit Gen. Butler on Friday last, to confer about the exchange of prisoners. It is confidently expected that they will make arrangements for the speedy release of all our prisoners.

COL. QUAY, Military Secretary of Gov. Curtin, spent some days in Washington last week to get the quota of troops due from this State definitely ascertained. It has not been officially determined; but instead of being in arrears some 74,000 men as has been published, the record at Washington will probably show an excess of some 10,000, exclusive of the last call.

THE Rebels and the Democracy sustained two disastrous defeats recently. Gen. Forrest advanced upon Paducah with some 5,000 men, and it was manifestly part of the plan that he was to capture that point and then inaugurate revolution in the Southern portion of Illinois, where they reject free schools and vote the Democratic ticket with a yell.

THE PRESIDENTIAL STRUGGLE.

The campaign of 1864 opened with the utter discomfiture of the Democracy in New Hampshire, and there must be a counter current of popular opinion within the next six months hitherto unknown in our political history, if the loyal States do not vote as a unit for a Presidential candidate of unquestioned devotion to the cause of our common country.

The new year which is to witness the most momentous National struggle in the history of the government, clearly fore-shows the result in November next. New Hampshire was contested with an energy amounting to desperation, and both sides claimed the victory with equal confidence; but the vote in support of the administration candidates amounted to 5,000, and scarcely a Democratic candidate survived the struggle to tell that his party had organized existence.

Admitted as the Democracy have been by universal defeat in 1863, and the foreshadowing of like disaster in 1864, they have ceased to claim distinctive principles, and have resolved themselves into mere political camp-followers.

stitution; and Pennsylvania, Ohio, Missouri, Kentucky, Indiana, New York, Illinois and New Jersey, have now Democratic delegations and would vote Democratic, while Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware and the Republican States would vote for the Union candidate; but a majority of the States could not possibly be concentrated on either candidate, and the government would be brought to an inextricable chaos.

Such is the aim, the settled purpose of the Democratic leaders in the coming Presidential struggle. Failing to overthrow the government by their treacherous sympathy with traitors thus far, their last hope is to destroy the Republic by defeating the election of a President in November next, and hurling twenty millions of people into hopeless anarchy.

OUR STATE REVENUES.

A thorough revision of our State revenue laws, long demanded by equity, is now demanded by impious necessity. The revolutionaryists of the Senate resolutely refused to allow any legislation for the relief of the Treasury until the interest on the State debt matured; and the enormous sum of half a million was literally plundered from the tax-payers to gratify the studied purpose of the Democracy to embarrass our finances and strike a blow at our National credit.

An increase in taxes is not necessary; and if it be done, it will simply show that the legislature is wanting in an intelligent comprehension of our vast resources.

Our Board of Revenue Commissioners has become a mere aggregation of jockeys to shift taxation from point to point, as the more skillful members can best succeed; and the whole system, from beginning to end, is behind the age, invites dishonesty and at last fails to meet the wants of the treasury.

Naturally enough the Representatives from the Agricultural districts pounce upon corporations, and if they can only save lands from taxation, their mission is accomplished whether the necessities of the treasury are met or not.

Our Judicial districts should be carefully revised; but the time is not yet at hand when it can be done with entire justice. In 1871 when most of the Judges are to be chosen again, the districts should be diminished fully one-fourth, and we would have better Judges, and could afford to compensate them properly without increasing the cost of our courts.

Poor Vallandigham! One year ago he was the martyr of the Democracy—he was nominated for Governor amidst the wildest enthusiasm and deafening cheers—was greeted by the Democracy of Pennsylvania as one whose cause was made their cause; and every Democratic press and orator was eloquent in portraying the persecution of a traitor.

the general effort is to reduce the valuation of lands, all feel justifiable in laboring and voting to bring their own to the lowest possible point. This system is vicious and unfortunate for both the people and the State; and it cannot too soon be broken up.

We beg to remind the legislature that there is a vast amount of money due the State for unpatented lands which should be promptly collected. There is no consideration of justice or public policy that can require longer indulgence to those who have held possession of lands for years, without pretending to pay the claim of the State.

OUR JUDICIAL DISTRICTS.

The legislature erred grievously in 1851 by its failure to reduce the number of judicial districts in this State before any of the Judges were chosen by the people.

HOX. JERE. CLEMENS, formerly U. S. Senator from Alabama, in a late Union speech delivered at Huntville, gave the following account of the bombardment of Fort Sumter.

"In 1861," said Mr. C. "shortly after the 'Confederate Government was put in operation, I was in the city of Montgomery. One day, I stepped into the office of the Secretary of War, Gen. Walker, and found there, engaged in a very excited discussion, Mr. Jefferson Davis, a member of our Legislature from Lowndes county, and a number of other prominent gentlemen. They were discussing the propriety of immediately opening on Fort Sumter, to which Gen. Walker, the Secretary of War, appeared to be opposed. Mr. Gilchrist said to him, 'Why, unless you open on the fort, the people of Alabama will be back in the old Union in less than ten days!'

A BILL, completely re-organizing the militia of the Commonwealth, making them more serviceable for resisting raids from the enemy, has been prepared by the Chairman of the Committee on the Militia system, and read in place in the House.

AS THE mountain would not go to Mahomet, Mahomet has come to the mountain. The rebel Commissioner, Col. Ould, who some time since declined to hold any communication with "Beast" Butler, with reference to exchange of prisoners, arrived at Fort Monroe on Wednesday, on a flag of truce, and had a very cordial interview with the General, the result of which is not yet promulgated.

MECHANICAL news to the 19th ult. have been received. Juarez has published a decree separating the State of Coahuila from New Leon. The report of the capture of Guadalajara by Urag and the shooting of Miramon is pronounced unfounded. Urag is said to be marching to the south of Mexico. Ortega is reported to have been routed in Jalisco by the French, and to have disbanded his troops.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer lays down the "principles" of the Ohio "Democracy" in this way: "There can be no war under the Constitution for the coercion of a seceding State. The Democracy stand by a seceding State, and insist that such a war cannot be prosecuted for any legitimate or just purpose, or in any just manner." On this platform the Ohio "Democracy" ran Geo. B. McCallan.

THE steamship City of Cork, with European dates to the 21st instant, arrived at New York on Saturday. Prince Frederick, of Ansbach, is reported to have been found dead in his bed at Kiel on the morning of the 18th.

ARKANSAS.—Although Arkansas is the second of the seceded States to hold an election in renewed allegiance to the Constitution, she will be the first to resume her place in the Union. On the 14th of March she adopted her new free constitution by a popular vote of over ten thousand, in spite of the threats, and in many places the actual interference of rebel militia.

JUDGE PEARSON, of North Carolina, in a recent address before one of his fellow citizens, said that he never passed by the Rebel Congress for the conscription of persons who had been admitted substitutes for the war was unconstitutional.

MINING OF LIBBY PRISON.

A long and interesting speech was made by Gen. New Dow, at Portland, Maine, on Friday last, at the public reception given him by the citizens, and in the course of his remarks he alluded to the report that the rebels in Richmond mined the Libby Prison, and the attack of Kilpatrick's force. The General gave the following account of the barbarous act:

"They told us of Kilpatrick's raid. On the first of March arrangements had been made to receive him. And what do you suppose the arrangements were? That we were to meet Kilpatrick? No. They mined Libby Prison, with the intention of blowing it up; and to use their own phrase, 'to blow us to hell!'

Col. Nichols did not believe it. The statement was made to him by a rebel officer who came into the prison to visit Lieutenant Nichols, who told him that it was so. He stated that powder had been placed in the basement for the purpose of 'blowing us into atoms.' Col. Nichols did not believe it. The statement was made to him by a rebel officer who came into the prison to visit Lieutenant Nichols, who told him that it was so.

DIFFICULTIES OF A CAMPAIGN IN VIRGINIA.

If Gen. Grant does not defeat Lee and drive the rebel out of Virginia in three months, or if he does not win in every more and every battle, he will not be hunted down and disgraced. We know now by our own experience what war is, and what are the obstacles to be overcome in Virginia.

On the right of our army are chains of mountains which enable the rebels to conduct any flanking movement they may undertake, while the valleys afford them the means for an easy and unobstructed passage to and from Washington, and are almost entirely secure from attacks in their rear.

It is a well known fact that military operations are "base" should neither be too extended nor too limited, and that it should be accessible by several routes. The base of the Army of the Potomac is just the width of a railroad track, and that railroad furnishes really the only practicable route of communication.

But are we in view of these difficulties to expect nothing from the Army of the Potomac? No, it may overcome them. It may be the first, with a sufficient force to cross the river, it may compel the enemy to abandon the railroad, and thus have all the advantage of position on their side.
