THE UNION IN DANGER! MASS MEETING OF THE PEOPLE OF AUGUSTA.

The indignation which is being kindled among the people of Augusta, in respect of parties, assembled in MASS MEETING at Staunton, on SATURDAY, NOV. 11th 1900.

To consult as to what steps are necessary for the preservation of the Union in the present alarming condition of our country.

- James Cochran, John C. McLean, J. W. Waddell, Jr., John L. Payson, Robt. Cowan, N. M. Yost, Jas. B. Baldwin, Charles H. Starns, G. M. Cochran, Jr., Robt. L. Doyle, H. W. Shreffler, C. Samuel M. Wolfe, of Virginia, has been appointed Consul of the United States at Navigator's Island. Mr. Berry, the principal Chicago undertaker for the victims of the Lady Elgin disaster, has since died himself, from overwork.

Richmond, Va. on Saturday, at 8 o'clock 45 min., descended to Hampton at 2 o'clock, making the trip in 2 hours 36 minutes. The seat of government of Nicaragua has been removed from Managua to Granada, a city which Walker destroyed, but which is being rebuilt, and will be far superior to the old one.

The steamer Hill, running between New York and London, was wrecked on Wednesday night, the 31st ult. A large number of passengers were on board. Thirty persons were killed, and from forty to fifty badly scalded.

The Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, 21st annual, at Alexandria, Va., on the 21st inst. This conference comprises some two hundred ministers of the gospel, and its sessions will also be attended by a large number of lay members of the church.

We learn from a circular that the old copy of the United States will be received at the mint in exchange for cents of the new issue. Adj. further, that the director of the mint, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, has arranged with the Adams Express Company for the transport of the old coins.

The ready attention called to the various points of view of the old copper cents in terms of 20 and upwards to the mint, and of the new cents in return to all points in the Atlantic States, accessible by railroad and steamboat.

We accompanied Col. Geo. Baylor of this place to Greenfield, Nelson county, on last Monday, whether he had been invited by the friends of Douglas in that county, to meet in discussion, Hon. Mr. Goghlin, State Senator from the Amherst District, and also a meeting of the Virginia and the Baltimore Conventions. At first Col. Baylor prominently refused discussion with any friend of Judge Douglas, but finally yielded.

The controversy was conducted in a spirited and able manner for over two hours. Both parties were unprepared and knew well, but we think no prejudiced mind who heard them can fail to concede that Col. Baylor got decidedly the advantage. We looked upon it as a decided triumph—a crushing defeat to the champion and the cause of Breckinridge.

Col. Baylor has made some of the finest and most effective speeches that have been delivered in this cause. He is due the thanks of the friends of Douglas and the Union for his services.

Early on Monday night The rally on Monday night was a decided success. Possible and eloquent speeches were made by Gen. Harman, E. B. Brown, W. A. Burke, Esq., and Capt. J. A. Harman. We were absent in Nelson county attending a meeting at Greenfield, and consequently did not have the pleasure of participating in the proceedings; but learn that they were animated and enthusiastic. We were unable to attend the meeting because it is too late now to elaborate. Had every county in the State been as true as there has been the Spartan band of Augusts all would have been well but such was not the case, and consequently all is not well.

This District. It is generally believed that Douglas has carried the majority of the Democratic vote in this District. The information is not sure. Doubt, but the statement is well based that between 800 and 900 majority will be given.

The Contest Closed. The fight over, and the victory achieved by the opposition to the South. Lincoln is elected President through the moderate and the folly of the South herself, and it now remains to be seen whether or not the principles of prudence, conservatism and right will prevail over the passions and the blind indifference into all the horrors and griefs of intestine warfare. The question is plainly presented whether our system of government, inaugurated at so great a cost of blood and treasure, and rising in its results to a position of grandeur the world before has never witnessed, is to prove a failure or not. If wild infatuation shall rule the action of some of the extreme Southern States, and revolution is precipitated upon us, we say loudly by our hand upon our hearts, and we say we did it not. We believe ardently, passionately and almost necessarily for what we frankly believe the best interests of our glorious old Commonwealth and our common Country, have been in vain. The "deep damnation of conscious guilt" must rest somewhere, but it is not with us. We can look at the coming storm with no other sensation than painful sorrow, prepared with a firm purpose to resist only for what is the right.

Events in Italy. The all-absorbing topic of discussion in foreign journals, by this date, is the progress of affairs in Italy. Notwithstanding that the Royal army still holds its own in the neighborhood of Genoa, and that, of course, internal arrangements are in a state of considerable confusion, these affairs are progressing quite as satisfactorily as could reasonably be expected. The Piedmontese troops are now making their way towards Naples, but they will, of course, have to fight a battle with the Neapolitan troops before the capital is reached. That battle, if we mistake not, will be a decisive one, and put an end to the struggle for power in the Peninsula. There is one important feature in the news at hand, namely, the report of the part of the King of Sardinia to make Garibaldi Commander-in-Chief of the sea and land forces. This offer seems to have been accepted; but let us hope that that renowned General will not attack either Rome or Venice—certainly for the present, because, without consolidation and adequate strength on the part of the existing power, Victor Emanuel may, even now, lose the whole of the rich possessions which have been added to Italian Unity.

We are gratified to learn, by the National Intelligencer, that Edward C. Carrington has been appointed a Brigadier General of the militia of the District of Columbia. Gen. C. in the 20th year of his age, served as captain of volunteers through the whole of the Mexican war; received a military education at the Virginia Military Institute, and commanded the Washington Light Infantry, the oldest and one of the best companies in our city. He is the eldest son of the late Gen. C. Carrington, deceased, late of Virginia, who was twice wounded in the war of 1812, and promoted for his gallantry, and who was esteemed and beloved by the people of Virginia as a soldier, a patriot, and a philanthropist. He is the grand nephew of Col. Edward Carrington, of the Virginia, who fought from the beginning to the end of the Revolution, and in command of Gen. Greene's of the Southern wing of the American army, and was twice wounded at the head of the American army for his gallantry. The President could not have made an appointment more deserving, and more gratifying to the people of Virginia and the District of Columbia. Gen. C. served under the late terms with acceptability and efficiency in the Legislature of Virginia.

The ready attention called to the various points of view of the old copper cents in terms of 20 and upwards to the mint, and of the new cents in return to all points in the Atlantic States, accessible by railroad and steamboat.

Below we give the actual vote of August 11th in county. It will be seen in the aggregate the Democratic vote has been slightly decreased from that for Buchanan in 1860. This may be accounted for from the fact that many old line whigs acted with us in that contest, who remained their connection with their old party upon its re-organization in 1860. A number of Democrats, too, dissatisfied with the disunion condition of the party, voted for Bell. The Douglas wing of the Democracy have come up to the count least manfully, and accomplished all that was expected in this county. We congratulate them upon their zeal, ability and energy exhibited in their cause. We believe it was that of the right. Especially are we thankful to the speakers, who spared no time, labor or expense in presenting the facts and arguments embraced in the issue.

THE RESULT. Washington, Nov. 7.—It is estimated that Lincoln's majorities are as follows: New York 50,000, Michigan 25,000, Maine 25,000, Illinois 15,000, Ohio 80,000, Wisconsin 10,000, Iowa and Minnesota strong Republican.

Virginia. This county gives 300 majority for Breckinridge. The Democratic gain in this county is 210. This county shows a Democratic gain of 200.

Highland for Douglas. Below we give below the returns of this county: Bell, 258; Douglas, 218; Breckinridge, 170.

Nothing official from Simonsville. While four precincts to hear from the vote stood by in 1860, Bell 412, Douglas 184, Lincoln 0. The result will show about 1000 for Breckinridge, 500 for Bell, and 250 to 300 for Douglas.

DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSIONAL GAINS.—So far we have information from five Democratic gains of members of Congress in the election of Tuesday, a gain of three in New York, one in New Jersey and one in Massachusetts. That is, Ward in place of Briggs, DeLoach in place of Horace F. Clark, and Vibbard in place of Clark B. Cochran, in New York; Perry in place of Pennington, in New Jersey; and Appleton in place of Burlington, in Massachusetts. The Republicans, however, claim Breckinridge's gain in the Westchester district.

OWNERS OF SLAVES.—It appears from returns in possession of the Auditor of Public Accounts, that there are at this time, in Virginia, 35,400 slaves on record.

Passing Calamity at Sea.—Mem. Boston by sharks.

The telegraph has already announced the fearful calamity, of which the Boston Journal of October 30th, gives the following particulars:

A Gloucester correspondent informs us that intelligence has been received at that port of the loss of one of the mackerel catchers which left the Bay of St. Lawrence last month, with a full crew. When just outside of Cape Gaspe, during the night, in a thick fog, she was run down by a steamer, carrying away her bowsprit and foremast, and leaving her to drift.

Winter damage.—Winter damage to the steamer sustained is unknown, as she passed on without offering any assistance to the schooner.

The wind blowing fresh from the northward, they found it impossible to reach the Nova Scotia shore, and after drifting about for two days had to give up the idea of reaching the coast.

One of the bodies was thrown overboard and the other was kept to satisfy the hunger which was consuming them, but just as they were about to partake of this horrid meal, a small boat in sight, which relieved and rescued them more dead than alive.

The vessel which rescued them was a Portuguese. She carried them to St. Domingo, where they were kindly treated and sent home by the American consul.

Billiard Feats.—A Western champion of the cue is practicing to surpass Messrs. Berger. He has had but little experience as yet, but is improving, and hopes to cope with the tremendous Frenchman after a few years practice.

Driving a ball down a leg of the billiard table, down two pairs of stairs, and making a carom on three balls suspended over a parawalker's door.

Shooting his ball through three lengths of stove-pipe, and drawing it back into his cue-pocket.

Diagnosis.—An old physician, writing to the Alexandria Gazette from Mason co., Va., says:

This section of our State has been remarkably healthy, until quite lately, when it has been visited by a disease deemed by many to be a new one; but this is altogether untrue.

I allude to a malady called diptheria, and by the French Angine. The doctors disagree as to the character of this disease, as they are too often apt to regard the ill that fish is in it.

It is a modification of scarlatina, and is not the putrid variety of Richter, a very old author, and therefore, an old disease instead of a new one.

And, in plain English, it is nothing more nor less than the putrid sore throat, one of the most appalling and dangerous maladies that can possibly visit any community.

There is nothing new in it with me, as I have been familiar with it at different periods, for upwards of fifty-six years—a period in which I have been engaged in the study and practice of medicine.

In a communication like the present, I can only drop a few remarks respecting the treatment of this fearful disease, which has already proven so fatal in several instances.

As in this and other neighboring counties, as well as on the Ohio side of the river, a man of the name of Swartz, lost both of his sons with it—one nearly of age, and the other sixteen—only a few days ago.

Emetics are not only useful in this disease, and are certainly useful in this disease, and are certainly useful in this disease.

When the fever is on, administer cooling, acidulated drinks—lemon-water, cold water, and a little ice.

In the progress, or when the system fails with much prostration, exhibit warm, stimulating tea, and drinks.

The local treatment, I employ various remedies, but to produce a few of them most useful. Milk is a strong sudorific of the sulphate of lime, with a plentiful addition of honey, and use as a gentle several times a day.

When the fever is on, administer cooling, acidulated drinks—lemon-water, cold water, and a little ice.
