Mosby and his Men.

John Singleton Mosby is the son of Alfred D. Mosby, formerly of Albemarle County

He was born in Powhatan County, Va., on the 10th of December, 1834, and educated at the University of Virginia.

When the war broke out, Mosby, who was then a young man, was married to the daughter of the Hon. Beverly Clark, late United States Minister to Central America.

At the commencement of hostilities between the North and South, Mosby resided at Bristol, Washington County, Va., where he was

He was then engaged in the practice of law, but he was soon called to the bar, and entered the army as a private, becoming a member of a company raised in Washington County, and commanded by Captain Jones.

He served twelve months, in which position he served with distinction, and was promoted to the rank of Captain, and then to that of Major.

Call for the Papers.

Persons living in neighborhoods where the mails are not carried, would confer a great favor...

Candidates should order their Election Tickets in time. We are prepared to print them in good style.

The Duty of Voters.

In our issue of September the 5th, we showed that the Constitution imposed no other restrictions upon eligibility to the House of Representatives...

No one can vote now who has not taken a solemn oath to 'faithfully support, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States.'

The course of the Press of this State in urging the withdrawal of all candidates for Congress...

We maintain that, under the obligations of the solemn oaths which all voters have taken to 'faithfully support, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States,' it is their duty to support those only who will not submit to unconstitutional requirements.

If we acknowledge the right of Congress to prescribe qualifications of eligibility, Congress can prescribe any it may choose.

It is a monstrous proposition, and 'an outrage, passing strange' that any sensible man should believe that it was designed by the wise authors of the Constitution to invest Congress with such a right.

We should elect men who deny this right, and who would refuse to take an unconstitutional oath, or to submit to any other unconstitutional requirement.

Suppose the citizens of this State should elect only such men as would take the oath, and that they should make in Congress the stand of the Constitutional test oath...

was before the election, or were defeated at the polls. Should Virginia elect such only we could take the oath, and they would agree to do so...

If we elect men who were opposed to secession, who merely acted with their States, and who cannot take the oath because of their sympathy with their own people...

It should be borne in mind that loyal men are entitled to be represented by men of their choice, and that no man can vote who is not recognized as a loyal man...

Lewisburg Times.

We have received the second issue of the Lewisburg Times, a new paper established at Lewisburg, Greenbrier County, West Virginia...

Some robbers entered the store of Mr. Franklin Pence of Harrisonburg and abstracted goods to the amount of about $150.

General Sherman, it is said, is to make his future home in St. Louis.

The New York Metropolitan Record says that the Southern man who abandons his country at the present time, or at any future time, is, or will be, unworthy of his name.

General Sheridan has returned to Texas from New Orleans. Re-organization is rapidly progressing in Texas.

John Rogers, a brother of General W. S. Rosecrank, is the Democratic nominee for representative in Marion County, Ohio.

The Court of Conciliation of the city of Richmond has, by order of Major-General Terry, had its jurisdiction extended over the whole Department of Virginia...

The following citizens of Augusta have been pardoned by the President— Thomas J. McCue, John Marshall McCue, Jacob Bowman, Dr. John McConney, Dr. William B. McConney, William R. Danlap, Nathan L. Blakeney, Hugh McClure, Jas. M. Stout, Arch. A. Sprull, Zach. J. McCluskey, John Churchman, John G. Stover, Wm. P. Tate, Benj. F. Cochran, Isaac Hall, P. Schumaker, Benj. Crawford, Alex. F. Kinney, Franklin McCue, Elijah Hogabard, Joo N. Houdren.

The pardons of a number of other citizens of the County are before the Secretary of State for signature.

Valley Mail.

Some one in the Rockingham Register is complaining that there is only a tri-weekly instead of a daily mail down the Valley, and blames the mail contractor for it.

Barn Burnt.

On Friday evening, the 22nd ult., the barn of Mr. Geo. Eastham, of Rockingham, was destroyed by an incendiary.

Military and Civil Officers.

Major General Terry, commandant of the Department of Virginia, has issued an order, which not only dismisses all actions taken against military officers, agents of the Freedmen's Bureau, and agents of the Treasury Department...

Capt. Ad. Harper of Brock's Cap, Rockingham county, has joined the Tunker Church and is now a preacher of that persuasion.

From the Rockingham Register. The Congressional Election. Messrs. Editors:—The election so near at hand is one of immense importance...

The present oath of office is, in our opinion, unconstitutional, but may we expect its repeal by the people?

President Johnson, in a recent interview with Southern gentlemen...

President Johnson calls to the people of Virginia to stand by him in the force war he is about to wage, in their behalf, upon Republican fanaticism.

Further. Out of the whole number of prominent gentlemen in this district that might represent us, we feel certain that every one of them would vote identically the same way upon any issue dividing the North and the South.

But, Mr. Stuart says, in his card, Mr. Lewis cannot take this oath of office.

In the conclusion of Mr. Stuart's card there is this line: "Better that Virginia be unrepresented than misrepresented."

On the other hand, the election of Mr. Stuart would, in itself, result in the selection of a gentleman notoriously unable to take this oath.

Mr. Stuart's card is a masterpiece of evasion and misrepresentation.

We are, respectfully, REGD. W. BURNETT, Oct. 3, 1865.

STAUNTON SPECTATOR.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The 1st National Bank of Staunton. A portion of the citizens of Augusta assembled at the late Central Bank on Monday, the 23rd inst., for the purpose of organizing a National Bank in Staunton.

The amount necessary to organize the Bank having been taken, the stockholders proceeded to elect nine directors, and the following persons were chosen: Alex. H. H. Stuart, Charles T. Cochran, Hugh W. Sheffey, Claiborne R. Mason, Briscoe B. Donoghue, William Allan, William H. Tams, James W. Crawford, M. G. Harman.

The election of Teller, &c., was postponed until the Bank had arranged matters at Washington so as to commence active business, which, we understand, will be in a week or ten days.

The name of the Bank is "The first National Bank of Staunton."

In the Wrong Place.

On Friday evening last, two colored persons, a man and woman, got out of the stage at the American Hotel, and, presuming upon social equality, went into the sitting room of the Hotel and seated themselves upon one of the sofas, whilst another was occupied by white ladies who had just arrived.

The Proprietor discovered the unwarrantable liberty taken by this "gemmen ob color," he showed him in a striking and forcible manner that he had wholly mistaken his social status. The negro sought redress by reporting the case to the Provost Marshal, who, after hearing the facts, told the negro that he had received the kind of treatment he deserved, but not to the degree to which his improper conduct justly entitled him.

Sewing Society.

The ladies of this place have organized a Sewing Society for the purpose of raising the means, by their own labor, for putting a new roof upon the Presbyterian Church.

House Burnt with an Infant in it.

A house of Mr. Jno. Trimble, occupied at the time by colored persons, about 5 miles from Staunton, was burnt on Thursday morning last, and a colored infant, six months old, was burnt with the house. The fire was accidental. The dwelling of Mr. Trimble was saved, though greatly endangered by its proximity to the house which was destroyed.

Col. George H. Smith.

As will be seen by his card, in our advertising columns, Col. Geo. H. Smith will practice his profession in the Courts of Augusta, Pendleton and Highland. He is well known as the gallant Col. Smith who commanded the 62d Va. Regiment. The citizens generally will be pleased to learn that he has located in Staunton.

American Hotel.

The American Hotel of this place is well kept, and the Proprietor, Col. Chas. T. O'Ferrall, seems determined to show the public that he is one of the few who "know how to keep a Hotel." He is having the Hotel put in thorough repair. See his advertisement.

The speech of President Johnson, in reply to the Massachusetts delegation, which was published, was a full report of that speech as reported for the New York Herald, and it contained so much remark as that mentioned in the communication signed "Rockingham."

We published last week the proceedings of the meeting organizing a "National Express Company." We invite attention to the advertisement of H. W. Sheffey, Esq., in reference to the books of subscription, &c.

On Saturday last, Genl. Terry, Commanding at Richmond, suppressed the publication of the "Commercial Bulletin."

John B. Anthony of Elm, Rockingham county, left his wife and four children and came off with Mrs. Keys—an old maid.

Unavoidably postponed until next week.

COMMUNICATED.

For the Spectator. Mr. Editor—A series of cards have appeared in the Spectator of the last three or four papers, written by myself, over the signature of "A Citizen," and Major J. M. McCue over his own signature, and although I have not seen a copy of any of them, I have been made by Major M. a medium for personal insinuations and abuse.

In order that no innocent person may be unjustly suspected of having written the cards, I have determined to publish a card over my own signature, stating that I have completely demolished them in the matter really at hand, and stand galled by the awkward position he occupied before the world, and in consequence of his age and infirmity, and his personal animosity upon me, in the name of madam, and do believe for the purpose, if possible, of injuring my private character.

Major McCue further adds, and rumor says he was afterwards dropped from the roll of an artillery company of being so inefficient as an officer for incompetency, which he makes the assertion that I was for a long time "a loser about town." Now it is perfectly evident, to any man of good intelligence, that the card which he has written is a gross insult to me, and that I have been obliged to report the matter to the Provost Marshal, who, after hearing the facts of the case, and allowing such such deductions, as they may seem fair and just, without my wish or consent I was represented to Genl. R. E. Lee as a man of ill conduct, and given the opinion in regard to his conduct, which I did not desire to be published.

Ode to my New Bonnet.

Not a triangle of straw and lace
That serves as a covering for my face,
With such a very bewitching grace.

Your airy touch can scarcely press
The shape from curl or flowing tress,
So light, so soft to nothingness,
You surely could not be a bonnet.

A bit of straw adorned with leather,
A yard of lace, a spray of heather,
Some hedges and a tawny feather,
These trifles shaken all together—
Thus were you made.

No cap with starched nothing kind,
No brooch nor tresser projects blind;
But threads of flannel in the wind,
These form a silken mesh combined,
My water-hat.

Yet most your daily form I prize,
As sweetest back and brow mine eyes
It lets the drabbed bits of rye,
Where a redress in ambush lies
My part of mine.

But when rough Autumn winds sweep past,
And all our curls shake against,
Then can you stand me from the blast,
And round my neck a shelter cast
To keep me warm.

Also a summer friend are you,
And on a kind and white attire blue,
I long have known you saying true—
Old friends are better than the new
When troubles come.

So are the dog-day heats be fed
Let me your sunny smiles spread,
For soon as water whistles down,
I'll be once more about my head
My old scoop bonnet.

WIT AND HUMOR.

Unmarried people often kill themselves—married ones often do not.

A man in Detroit jail wishes he had the small-pox so that he could break out.

It introduces a bill for the destruction of worms, as the woodpecker said in a stump speech.

Why would you tie a slow horse to a post seen to improve his pace? Because it would make him fast.

It should be between husband and wife as between two hanging strings—the one trembling when the other is struck.

An English woman gave birth to four children—two boys and two girls. A contribution is solicited for her bereaved husband.

If Brigham Young's one hundred wives favor their lord with Curtin Lectures, what, oh what, must be the nature of "Young's Night Thoughts?"

In Cork, a short time ago, the crime of the Court endeavored to disperse the crowd by exclaiming, "All ye blackguards that isn't lawed, quit the Court."

"Well, Dick," said a Doctor to a polite man, whose wife he had been attending, "how is your wife?"
"She's dead, I thank you, doctor."

"That's a fine strain," said one gentleman to another, alluding to the tones of a concert singer the other evening. "Yes," said a countryman who sat near, "but if he strains much more he'll split."

"Going, going, going!" said an auctioneer. "Where are you going?" asked a large-bearded man in the room. "I'm going to the Zoological Gardens, to tell the keepers one of their baboons is loose," replied the knight of the hammer.

"Papa, I planted some potatoes in our garden," said one of the smart youths of this generation to his father, "and what do you think came up?"
"Why, potatoes of course." "No, siree; there came up a drove of hogs and ate them all." The old man says, "that will do me."

A Negro baby was born in Petersburg, Va., the other day with the exact impression of a two-cent U. S. revenue stamp on his forehead.—Lynchfield Express.

The mother must have been chased by a government tax collector.
"Sambo, what's yer up to now a-days?"
"O, I see a carpenter and joiner."
"Ho! I guess yer is. What department do yer perform, Sambo?"
"What department? I does do circular work."
"What's dat?"
"Why, I turns do grindstones."

A THOROUGHLY HUSBAND—A married lady, who was in the habit of spending most of her time to the society of her neighbors, and who therefore nearly always out when her husband returned home, happened one day to be suddenly taken ill, and sent her husband in great haste for a physician. The husband ran as fast as he could, and finally returned, anxiously exclaiming, "My dear, where shall I find you, when I come back?"

An old farmer went to his landlord to pay his rent, putting on a long face to correspond with the occasion, as he entering the house, he said that the times were so hard that he couldn't raise the money, and, dashing down a bundle of notes on the table, exclaimed: "There, that's all I can pay." The money was taken up and counted by the landlord, who said, "Hing it, it's as much as you or me." "Hing it, it's as much as you or me," said the farmer, "if I didn't take the wrong bundle out of my pocket."

An honest Dutchman in training up his son in the way he should go, frequently exercised him in the Bible lessons. On one of these occasions he asked him:
"George, who was dat vod not sleep mit Boubler's wife?"
"I do not know, vell, vat was de reason he would not sleep mit her?"
"Don't know; s'phose he wasent sleepy."
George should make an apology.

An criminal was once on his way to the gallows, proclamation was made that if any woman would marry him, under the gallows, with a rope around his neck, he would receive a pardon.
"O, gill," cried a cracked voice from amidst the crowd.

The subject desired the eager candidate for nomination to approach the cart, which the old man had begun to examine her countenance.
"Hem like a hawk," said he, "like like water, drive on haugman."

DUCK TRAVEL.—A family in La Crosse, Wisconsin, have been missing stove wood for several weeks. On the return of one of the members of the family a few nights since, the case was stated to the wife, who might a very pretty stick of fuel, which she had hidden up on the porch. In the stick were two ounces of powder, for she kept. Monday the stick was there—Tuesday the stick was there, and the length was getting on the man who found it. Wednesday morning the stick was gone. "What's gone with it?" an expedition was made to the stove, and a hidden window was found to open. On going to the window, a hole was seen. The stove had been taken down, and a hole of the size of a man's head was cut in the wall of the stove. A man was seen to go through the broken window, and after the stove had been taken down, a man was seen to go through the broken window, and after the stove had been taken down, a man was seen to go through the broken window.

Taxes.

There is said to be nothing certain but "death and taxes." That our readers may learn something about their taxes, always a subject of interest, we publish the schedules "A" and "B" under the act to provide Internal Revenue to support the government to pay interest on the public debt, and for other purposes, approved June 30th, 1864, as amended by the act of March 3rd, 1865.

ESTABLISHED 1830! The Celebrated "Creole Bitters," MANUFACTURED BY D. S. HUFFARD, 1509 SOUTH WASHINGTON, Thirtieth, or Governor Street, Richmond, Va.

The Creole Bitters are chiefly intended for the Southern and Western States, because they contain ingredients adapted especially to diseases incident to those climates. Unlike quack compounds, they do not pretend to miraculous powers. The materials which enter into their composition are of a purely medicinal character. The disease in which their use has been regarded as of efficacy will be enumerated, and we leave it to the public, after a fair trial, to decide as to their value. The much we say for them is, that they contain the active principles of all the articles enumerated in the list of ingredients, and that in quantities sufficient to be of a remedial value. But as a medicinal preparation, it is valuable as a commencing tonic in Fevers, Bronchitis, and other inflammations of the respiratory apparatus. As a valuable stimulant, it has been frequently used, and may be used with advantage in cases of indigestion, and in Dyspepsia characterized by irritability of the stomach, not of inflammatory origin.
