REVELRY OF THE KING.

It is supposed to have been written in Latin at the time the king was being seized by the soldiers... by an English officer...

We must meet the coming rather... and the walls around us here... are they about to see the flag of the King?

There are the golden gleaming... Not here in the village square... To-day, our hearts are glowing...

There's a man that's looking... But some of our hearts are breaking... They'll be here with their hands...

There's a man that's looking... But some of our hearts are breaking... They'll be here with their hands...

CARRIER'S ADDRESS To the Patrons of the Valley Spirit.

January 1st, 1884.

Good Morning, kind Patrons, again I appear to greet you all with a happy New Year...

Revolving time has brought another year: Swift as the lightning glance our moments fly...

Our days are all appointed by that pow'r Whose awful voice can shake the steady pole...

Oh have our sins requir'd the fatal stroke, And of stern justice say "Now cut them down!"

And lo! our eyes behold another Year! "Whence art thou?" In His mysterious ways...

Let it be then our constant aim to praise, That pow'r supreme, sublime, that rules above...

Praise that power that makes the seasons roll In order strict from year to year...

Praise, we say, that wondrous mind, That bade this earth from nothing rise...

That made the sun the King of day, The moon the glorious Queen of night...

That planned for us this favor'd land, Where Man his birth-right might assume...

But Man—ambitious, impious man, The wisdom of a God will spurn...

Our noble country wreck'd in ruins lies— A Nation suffers for a Nation's sin...

Or'er our land where peace and plenty smile'd See kindred marshals, and the daily strife...

The oppress'd of every land here found A safe retreat from tyranny to flee...

"Tis gone! the glorious dream is past, The work by ages wrought undone...

In vain have warriors toiled and bled, And in vain the councils of the deadly strife...

Beneath their rule unceasingly The forest fell; the valley glowed...

Peace reign'd supreme—on every hand The miracles of art were wrought...

Scourge abroad, at home, around, With naught but their growing strength to mar...

'Tis lost! on Europe's troubled shore, With arms outstretched and eager eyes...

The Rebel, with his marshaled host, Exults and points with scornful eye...

But cursed be the lips that spoke, The helms, words of hate and strife...

These ramparts of the State that stand, With their battlements of hate and rage...

CHAMBERSBURG, JAN. 2, 1863.

LOCAL NEWS.

THAMES.—Our Carrier returns... friends for the very liberal patronage bestowed on him on the first of the New Year.

CAMP BLIVER.—The camp quartered at Camp Bliver left for Camp Gettysburg, on Tuesday morning last, where they will be consolidated with some of the regiments forming there.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.—A meeting of the Public Library Association will be held at the residence of William Heyner, Esq., on Friday evening, at about half past 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired as business of much importance to the Association will be transacted.

RESOLUTION.—The members of the congregation under the pastoral care of Rev. W. H. R. Doerflinger presented that gentleman, on New Year's Day, with a valuable sermon, and are pleased to chronicle such evidence of the right spirit between pastor and flock, who only wish we had more of it to record.

CLARK'S LECTURE.—Rev. Joseph Clark delivered an instructive and highly entertaining lecture, in Franklin Hall, on New Year's night. The subject of the lecture was "The History and Theory of Southern Rebellion." The subject was handled in a masterly manner and afforded much gratification to a large and respectable audience.

A NEW YEAR GIFT.—On New Year's Day the Teachers in the Sunday School connected with the Lutheran Church, of this place, presented Mr. Messersmith with a Bible and Hymn Book as a token of their esteem for the man, and appreciation of his efficient services as Superintendent of the school. The present is a very costly and elegant style.

DEATH OF A SOLDIER.—We are again called upon to record the death of another of the gallant volunteers from this place. Mrs. Wm. Soliders, a member of Capt. Eaton's company, died at Fortrose Monroe, last week, of typhoid fever. Her corpse was brought to this place on Monday last for interment. Mr. Soliders was about nineteen years of age, a printer by trade, and a young man of great worth and promise.

THE HERO OF DRINKERSVILLE.—Capt Hezekiah Easton made a short visit to this place on Monday last on his way to his home in Loudon. The engagement at Dranesville, Capt Easton behaved with great gallantry, and to his skill in the use of his guns was the victory of that day mainly due. Capt Easton has in his possession a coat of Dranesville, which was worn by a rebel Colonel on the battle field.

BULLY FOR ALL.—A staunch friend of the Valley Spirit, a friend in all the contingencies of life, a list of eleven subscribers and promises twenty more from the same neighborhood in a short time. He has our thanks for the deep interest taken in our welfare, and we are sure he will receive the additional thanks of all whom he has induced to subscribe for as sound a Democratic paper as the Valley Spirit is admitted to be.

SHAKESPEARE.—At the particular request of the Chambersburg Bar, J. P. McClintock, Esq., delivered a Lecture on Shakespeare, in the Court Hall, on Friday evening, the 27th inst. The lecturer gave a highly interesting biographical sketch of the "Immortal Bard of Avon," and then branched out into recitations from the "Merry Wives of Windsor," and "Merchant of Venice," keeping up a running commentary on their plots and beauties. There was a large and highly appreciative audience in attendance that seemed well pleased with the performance.

SHIRAZI.—We had all our readers to carefully examine the prices set down in the advertisement of Shiraz & Co's list of goods, and we are glad to see that some of our readers have already ordered some of the goods. It will be well to keep a list of the goods and prices, as we shall be glad to see our readers to order some of the goods.

PENNA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.—(Early session commencing with a star.) Session held on the 29th of Dec. 1862. George Condit, R. J. Venable, D. Geo. C. Smith, R. C. Foster, and DeWitt... (List of names and topics follows)

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.—(Session held on the 29th of Dec. 1862.) J. Caldwell, D. J. Thomas, R. G. Smith, D. J. C. Johnson, D. H. C. Thompson, D. J. C. Johnson, D. H. C. Thompson, D. J. C. Johnson, D. H. C. Thompson...

SPANGLER has a large and extensive variety of Hair Brushes, Oils, Pomades, Perfumes, Soaps, everything complete for the toilet. Cold Cream for the face, Shaving Cream, Toilet Soap, Nipple Cream, etc.

WHERE IS YOUR BAY.—We saw him last, late in the evening, in company with some very bad boys, and they each had a cigar; now and then some of them used very profane language. And we knew it was no very uncommon thing for some of them to "take a glass of ale," which is sure finally to lead to something stronger.

ECKER'S COMET.—The well-known periodical comet is now visible, with the aid of a telescope of moderate power, in the constellation Perseus. It is at its greatest brilliancy round the sun is forty months, three years and a third, which is the shortest period of any known comet.

INTERESTING EXPERIMENTS.—According to experiments made in Paris, the pulse of a man beats forty times a minute; that of a tiger thirty-six times; of a tapir, forty-four times; of a horse, forty times; of a wolf, forty-five times; of a fox, forty-six times; of a dog, forty-seven times; of a monkey, fifty-eight times; of an eagle, one hundred and sixty times. It was impossible to determine the beatings of the elephant's pulse. Experiments were also made by which it was satisfactorily proven that the Hairs and Caps sold by J. L. Decker, cannot be supposed for durability, style and cheapness.

W. H. MILLER, of the Merchants and Traders Association, has been elected Secretary of the Association. He will be glad to see our readers to order some of the goods.
